on the Ground That Threats Had Been Made of Bolting if a Gold Standard Platform, Was Adopted.

New York, May 22.-(Special.)-Driven desperation by the absolute certainty of their defeat in the national convention at Chicago, the gold standard leaders of the east have determined upon a rule-orruin policy, which attempted can only result in wrecking the democratic party. The presence of Chairman Harrity, of the democratic national committee, and a conference of gold standardites, which is said to have been held behind closed doors somewhere in this city, furnish the occasion for a disclosure of their plans which The Herald makes today with an The purpose of these people is, in brief, to use the national committee in shutting the silver men out of the national demo cratic convention. They have been so persistently misled by the false claims sent out from Washington and published in the papers that they have had no conception of the sentiments of the democrats in other parts of the country. has led to a revision of their figures. The Herald's Figures. The Herald goes into a lengthy discussion of the situation and publishes a table show that "indications, now point to the adoption of the silver platform at Chicago." The tables give gold 378, silver 422 and places 110 in the doubtful column. The gold column is bolstered up by eight votes from Georgia, fifteen votes from Indiana, eight votes from Louisiana, four oa'ss from Virginia and six votes from West Virginia, while California, Kentucky, Nebraska and Ohio are put in the doubt-

"Comptroller Eckels has come back from Illinois completely disheartened. Not only will the silver people control the state convention ten to one, but Governor Altgeld is managing affairs so shrewdly as to prevent a bolt.

"Worse yet, Senator Brice has about given up in Ohio. He started in several weeks ago to see what could be done, but quickly found that the free silver move-ment had gone too far to be checked. He holds that President Cleveland has embarrassed the 'sound money' cause by failing to take himself distinctly out of the field as a candidate for the democrati-nomination and is going to let matter

"On the other hand the free silver democrats are overwhelmingly confident of success at the polls, and predict that the east ern sound-money democrats will turn out to be too good democrats to bolt, and will take their medicine."

These and many others of the same in port are the advices which have driven the gold people to their last desperate stand. The Herald discloses the details of the plan determined upon in the following

Great care has been taken to canvass the members of the committee, and the sound money men are emphatic in their assertion that they have even a larger majority than was apparent when the committee, met in Washington in January. Should it be clear, after all the delegates have been elected, that the silver men are in control, or that the margin is so close as to make success doubtful, the national committee will challenge every free silver delegation presenting credentials."

The Herald goes on to give this as the excuse for the proposed action of the gold people if they can make the national committee do their bidding:

"The free silver men, in nearly all their conventions, have declared that they would bolt the convention at Chicago if it did declare for free silver. They will be told by the national committee that they are not democrats, and will be denied places on the roll and seats in the convention. They will also be told that no man is a democrat who in advance of a convention announces an intention of bolting if the convention does not go his way. storm at the outset and send the free silver democrats to the place they belong— the free silver convention, to be held at St. Louis the latter part of July."

Harrity Is Reticent. Chairman Harrity was here but a short time and all efforts to make him discuss this new phase of the situation failed. All he would say was that he did not anticipate any kind of a bolt at Chicago, though he did expect a hard contest. Although the New York papers are heaping upon Harrity the adulation which they are wont to employ toward a man they want to use, it is not believed he will countenance a

AND VILAS WILL HAVE A HARD TIME

In Carrying His State for the Gold Standard-The People Have Suffered from Contraction.

Madison, Wis., May 22 .- (Special.)-Unless all signs fail the constituency of Senator Vilas will give him and his policy some trouble.

The democratic state convention has just been called to meet on the 23d day of June, and the coming week will witness the opening of the campaign between the people who are for free coinage and the bugleme of the golden camps, who are anxious thus to pay for the recognition which they have had from high sources. In the numerou contests going on for representation at Chicago not much has been said about Wisconsin, probably because it was supposed that Mr. Vilas had his fences in such good order that it would be time thrown away o encroach upon his preserves.

If there is a lucky dog on the globe it is this same Vilas-a brilliant sort of man. who has succeeded in making the president believe that he is an envolumed copy of onvention was delayed to so late a date is one of the mysteries of the day. It can only be explained as an act of prudence on the part of Senator Vilas, who expected the other states to rush along with the Cleveland indorsements, thus enabling him to land Wisconsin in the swim. In this urpose he acted with good sense, for if there is a state in the union that has been ursed by gold contraction it is this same Wisconsin, and any attempt to get her to declare for the gold standard on direct appeal would be folly.

It turns out, however, that instead of improving his chances Senator Vilas has infured them, for with Iowa next door, ablaze with true silver democracy; with Illinois so entrenched within silver lines that the gold men have kicked over the bucket and gone out of the field; with Ohio, rushing on toward genuine bimetallism, it would be a miracle if the democracy of this state could be held back from joining with their broth-

Orders to Understrappers.

Orders have been sent out to the post asters and other federal employes to see to it that Mr. Vilas is sustained, but as the people are of similar mind with their Iowa grethren they will hardly avail them much. Wisconsin went democratic in the election of 1890 by a majority of over 30,000. The silver crusade of the last twelve years has shaken the state from its republican moor

Vilas was lucky enough to ride in with the senate. The boys will give him a struggle this time, however, and he will have to find some other kind of law busines to keep free coinage idea that Wisconsin came into the party and it was upon the gold issue that she went back into republicanism in a spirit of deep disgust. If she is to be, drawn out again so as to be available in the electoral college, it will be through a silver platform upon which her farmers and oflers can rally.

There is great indignation expressed by the rank and file of the party over the manner in which they have been deprived

GOT THEM ON THE RUN Compromises Offered by the Gold Men in Kentucky.

Frankfort, Ky., May 22.—(Special.)—The ree coinage men have created a panic in the ranks of the goldbugs by invading that strong goldbug fortress, the city of Louisville. The free coinage men have Louisville. The free coinage men have undoubtedly captured the twelfth ward, the largest in the city. The "sound money" men concede this ward, but claim the rest of the city. Both Carlisle and Blackburn will attend the state convention: Information was received here today from Senator Black-burn that he had refused to consider any compromise, but proposed to attend the envention and fight for a 16 to 1 plank in the platform. He will oppose any resolu-tions endorsing the administration. Car-isle has also sent word that he will attend the convention.

Lieutenant Governor M. C. Telford, the 'sound money" leader and close friend of Secretary Carlisle, is out today in a state-ment, suggesting a compromise, which has been rejected by the silver men, who are determined to give no quarter. In part the lieutenant governor says: "I am perfectly willing, however, to admit that I may be mistaken and the other side may be right. At all events, I am willing to accept the decision of the majority. It has seemed to me that the juestion in Kentucky ought to be settled fairly and independent of any personal phase. The names of Carlisle and Black-burn have become amalgamated with the respective gold and silver side of the question, where they should be entirely di-vorced from the question. It should be decided solely upon its merits. At the same time the relations of these two inguished Kentuckians to the party in is too close and prominent to be ignored by Kentucky democrats. Mr. Blackburn is the accredited nominee of the democratic party in Kentucky for the office of United States senator. But for the failur of certain democratic members of the las of certain democratic members of the last general assembly to support him he would have been elected. Mr. Carlisle made a great mistake in not supporting him. While I disagree with Mr. Blackburn on the currency question, I went to Frank-fort and spent the entire time of the session in trying to elect him. The telegram which was sent to Mr. Carlisle, signed by sixty-two out of sixty-eight members of the general assembly, was in my hand-

Therefore, I would like to see the Kentucky democratic state convention which meets in this city on the 3d of June adopt resolutions about as follows: First, we recognize and endorse the Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn as the democratic nominee for the United States senate, and as such commend him to the party in this state; second, we nominate for the office of president of the United States the Hon. John G. Carlisle and commend him to the democracy of the union. This would dispose of the personality of these two men and this agreed to we could go ahead and fight out the currency issue on its merits, and for one I propose to stand by the result if the decision is for 'sound money,' I am still for Joe Blackburn for the senate, because he is the nominee. If the decision is for free coinage, I am still for Mr Carlisle, because he is a Kentucklan; because the great issue must still remain to be decided by the national convention which meets at Chicago. If Mr. Carlisle should be nominated at Chicago it will, of course, be on a 'sound money' or gold standard platform; if the free silver element dominates it is entirely, possible that Mr. Blackburn may be nominated for president. In either event I will cheerfully accept the result and support any nominee whose views on the currency question are not in accord with his own. I have an abiding faith in the intelligence of the masses of the democratic party. They have had ample time to become advised on the question and the will of the majority ought to control."

Washington, May 22.—(Special.)—A prominent Kentuckian of the Carlisle school has been here attempting to compromise with Senator Blackburn. His proposition was that the convention should declare for Blackburn for the senate, repudiate the emocrats who voted against him at the last session of the legislature and indorse Carlise for president. Blackburn promptly declined the proposition with the statement that he believed the free coinage cause would triumph in the state, "and," said he "I give notice now that we will declare for the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. If the other side have the majority they can declare for anything they please. I want it understood, however, that I am willing to abide by the result, and I also want the other side to do the same. PRESBYTERIANS AT SARATOGA. Committees Are Announced and Reports Are Presented.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 22.-The general morning at 9:30 o'clock, after the usual devotional exercises of half an hour. Moderator Withrow was in the chair.

The most important matter of the day was the announcement of the standing ommittees, which he made up last night in a long conference with the stated and permanent clerks of the assembly. Dr. Booth, as retiring moderator, is at the head of the bills and overtures committee, with Dr. Agnew, of Philadelphia, as the second man. Dr. Agnew, on account of Dr. Booth's indisposition, will perform the duties of chairman.

Dr. Breed, the leading candidate of the opposition, should stand at the head of the judicial committee, the second in importance, but as some cases before this committee came from Dr. Breed's locality, he is placed at the head of the theological nary committee. Dr. Montfort, third man in the contest for moderator, is named as chairman of the judicial committee. Dr. Davies, nomnator of Dr. Withrow, is put down as

In presenting the report of the Sabbath observance committee, Chairman Worrell referred to the chief perils of Sunday observance, such as the greed of gain, which compels thousands against their will to work on the Lord's day; the dissemination of theories concerning individual liber-ty and social order, which are destructive of our best national traditions; Sunday excursions; Sunday baseball games; Sun day theaters, and Sunday bicycle pleasure

The report entreats members and all other persons to conscientiously discountenance whatever tends to break down the distinction between these and other days; as, for instance, Sunday trading, buying reading or in any way supporting Sunday secular newspapers; social entertainments and visitations that dissipate Sunday thought, and all self-indulgence on the Lord's day that tends to unfit them for worship and to impoverish

God's worship and to impoverish their spiritual natures.

"And," says the report, "we raise our voice against the desecration of the Sabbath by the opening of theaters on this day, and call upon our ministers, members and all good citizens to seek the stay of this great curse."

Dr. Frederick, of Baltimore, from the committee on church temporalities, reported a recommendation to change the form of government of the Presbyterian church in the clause relating to deacons.

At present church trustees may be persons not members of the church and in consequence conflicts sometimes occur between the elders and trustees. The proposed change gives the direction and control of the church temporalities to deacons instead of to trustees and requires that deacons shall be elected from the communicants of the church.

Rev. Dr. Craven, of Philadelphia, read the report of the committee to which was referred the overtures from the synod of India relating to the treatment in the mission churches of the polygamous converts there.

The committee recommended that no action be taken on the overture.

Mysterious Murder of Last Fall Solved at Last.

QUICK CAPTURE AT NOON

One-Eyed Negro Charged with Shooting Down the Merchant.

GRAND JURY TAKES ACTION

True Bill Returned by That Body in Twenty Minutes.

JOHNSON STRONGLY DENIES THE CHARGE

Officer Hewitt Claims He Has Abundant Evidence and That He Will Convict His Man.

What has been up to this time the mos mysterious murder case in the criminal annals of Atlanta was suddenly solved yesterday at noon by the arrest of a one eyed negro.

The murderer of Baker E. Bass, the commission merchant, who was foully assassinated at daylight on the 30th of August last, is a prisoner in the Fulton county After his capture rapid work was done by Detective Hewett, who had the case in charge. At 12 o'clock C. C. Johnson, the alleged murderer, was placed in police headquar-At 1 o'clock his case was carried before the grand jury.

Shortly before 2 o'clock a true bill charging murder, was returned and the prisoner was remanded immediately to the jail. Only two witnesses were introduced before the grand jury. Their testimony was sufficient, and in twenty minutes the case ad been committed to the superior court for frial The evidence is binding. It clinches every point in the dark mystery and fixes the crime, so the officers declare, beyond all doubt.

The prisoner is a negro by the name of C. C. Johnson, and there is not the slightest doubt in the minds of the local authorities that he is the right man. He was arrested by Officer Crusselle about 12:30 o'clock yesterday and was landed in a cell at police headquarters a few minutes later. The officers have been suspecting Johnson for some time, but only yesterday came to the conclusion that that they had sufficient prooff to arrest him. Officer Hewitt deserves nearly all the credit in the capture of the murderer. He has had charge of the case for months. The authorities have been looking for the

He was sitting in the office about noon yesterday when an old negro woman came rush ing in and told him that she knew wher a man was who was badly wanted by the detectives. She then pointed out Johnson, who was walking leisurely up Decatur street, just opposite the station house.

The officer followed the negro into a sa loon about a block higher up the street and as he was going out the rear door off his guard and inquired if his name was C. C. Johnson. The negro looked very much surprised and replied that he was the man. station house. Station House Keeper Turner was handed Talks Very Innocently.

A Constitution reporter happened to be close by at the time and accompanied the negro and the bailiff to the jail. The murderer exclaimed almost every step that he had committed no murder and that he could not understand why he had been arrested. Apparently he was the most innocent man in Georgia. Johnson was given a cell in the jail.

Officer Hewitt had ordered the negro's arrest just about the time he was arrested by Officer Crusselle.

When Officer Hewitt learned that his prize was safely lodged behind the bars he swore out an indictment against him for murder and took the case before the grand jury, which was in session at that

The charge was proven against him with the Bass had promised Johnson that he would pay him out with his $50, but for some reason or other failed to do so. The officers think that he was afraid of being implicated in the affair and had come to the conclusion that it would be best for all concerned for the negro to serve out A Woman in the Case.

There is still another cause that led to the murder.

The negro, it appears, was supporting woman before his incarceration, and mmediately after he was out of the way Bass made overtures to the woman, and his is probably one reason why he kep his dusky rival in the stockade The negro was released from the stock-years. He has been in the chaingang quite a number of times for different offenses and his comparative education with his natural ingenuity, make him a hard man to handle.

How the Murder Was Done. The murder of Baker E. Bass, which curred on August 30th, of last year, was one of the most mysterious of crimes ever ommitted in Fulton county. The tragedy occurred a few yards from Ellis street on the north side of Ivy street Bass's oody was found lying on the sidewalk in the alley leading from the Grand opera house by a negro boy employed at the Aragon hotel. He reported the crime immediately to the officers. When the officers arrived Bass was in a dying cor ition and near by lay a 44-caliber pistol The body of Bass was discovered just as the day was beginning to break. His head was in a pool of his own blood oozing from a wound just behind the right ear Gasping for breath, groaning in the throe of intense agony, writhing in his own blood, Bass strived to tell the officers of the deed. He suddenly sank back uncon scious. Drs. Nicolson, Todd and Westmoreland held a consultation after Bass was removed to the Grady hospital, but he died a few moments after 12 o'clock without speaking an intelligent word or throwing any light upon the mysterious tragedy. At first it was thought that Bass cor mitted suicide. The detectives at that time stated that every reason pointed to self-destruction. This was strenuously lenied by his family. From the first they claimed that he had been foully murdered. His wife heard the report of the pistol that caused his death. It was his cus tom to leave home every morning about 4 o'clock and go to his store. Upon the fatal morning Bass left home at the usual hour and had gone only a few blocks when

It was the opinion of the relatives and friends of the commission merchant that the murderer stood on an embankment where the man was found. Here they believed that the murderer laid in wait in the tall weeds, shooting the man down upon sight. It was said that the murderer jumped down the embankment and placed the pistol in Bass's hand in order to make it appear that he had committed suicide.

A Sensational Turn.

The investigation by the coroner turned up a sensational incident in connection with the mysterious crime. It was charged that several members of the detective department had threatened Bass, and evidence was introduced to sustain this. In reply to this Detectives Mehaffey and Conn addressed a card to the public, giving their connection in full with the several cases in which Bass had been implicated and in which it was charged that he had been receiving stolen goods. This card of the detectives sighted numerous instances, showing that Bass kept a fence, which was regularly supplied with stolen goods by a gang of negro thieves. wenty Several negroes were arrested and ten true bills were also found against Bass The fact was also brought out at the coroner's investigation beyond all doub that Bass did not commit suicide. The lootors claim that his hair was in its natural condition. It was not singed in the least nor was the skull torn up, as i would have been had the pistol been dis harged near his head. It was testified by one of the witnesses that he heard man running away from the scene of the murder. This, together with the fact that the weeds were mashed down and many other corroborating circumstances, established beyond question the theory of murder and a verdict to this effect was endered by the coroner's jury.

Dark in Mystery. Spurred on by the charges that they were implicated in the murder the detectives began to exhaust every method to solve the mystery. They worked day and night. They ran down the slightest clew, but about the affair was wrapped a veil of mystery which they could not tear away. Mrs. Bass offered $300 reward for the arrest of the murderer. It was learn ed that Bass had about $20,000 insurance on his life. The reward was increased. Several special men were detailed from the police department to work exclusively upon the Bass mystery. But the charge against the detectives would not down. Affidavits were made out by certain parties, declaring their connection with the case. Counter affidavits were filed. The detectives employed counsel, and defied the men who made the charges against

In the end they were fully acquitted, and went to work upon the case with renewed vigor. At regular intervals after this the mystery turned up sensational incidents. It was thought several times by the detectives that they had the right clew, but these led in the end to nothing, and the case was at a standstill. Since last October all hope that the murderer of Bass would be captured has been dispaired of. The police department was at times severely censured for not taking hold of the matter, and ferreting it out. It was marked down as the most remarkable crime in the criminal annals of Atlanta, and the suddenness with which it now comes up brings out graphically all of the facts connected with the case. Work on the Quiet. Though for months nothing has been aid of the case, Officer Hewitt has been quietly at work running down every trace of evidence leading to a solution of the mystery. He has been working on a different line of the case entirely from that which turned up in the arrest of Johnson yesterday. Striking true evidence, he let the false clews go and ran down the real murderer. "I have proof to convict," said Officer Hewitt last night, "I have affidavits which will show up all the details of evidence. This was made known to the grand Mary today, and they did not hesi-

WITHOUT BAIL.

Kennedy Was Released by Justice Screws in Montgomery.

IN THE PRELIMINARY TRIAL

Argument of Counsel for Both Sides of the Case-The Sheriff Released Without a Bond.

Montgomery, Ala., May 22.-(Special.)-The great unwritten law which authorizes a man to spill the blood of a fellow man to repay dishonor visited upon his wife, his daughter or his sister, was affirmed in the decision of Justice Screws in the preliminary trial of the Kennedy-Wood murder case today. The defendant was discharged without bail, the decision of the court being greeted by the loudest and most enthusiastic cheering. General E. W. Pettus, for the defense, made the first speech this morning. General Pettus is recognized as one of the greatest lawyers the state has ever produced, and the grand old man sustained his reputation today. He said he was peculiarly situated in this case; was here to defend a man who has been his friend for years, whose father had been his friend for a period of time longer than the life of a majority within the hearing of his voice. A man would be a brute who would not have feeling in such circumstances, and he asked the court to excuse him if he should say some things which he probably ought not to say. His relation to the deendant was much closer than that of a client-it was that of close friendship. court has three propositions before it: Shall the defendant be committed to jail without bail; shall the defendant be admitted to bail, and if so, how much; or shall the defendant be permitted to go free. These questions are to be determined by the court on the law and the facts. "I shall contend that this man ought to discharged, because he has not been guilty of any offense under the law of the land," said the speaker. "He cannot be convicted of any crime if it is proved that at the time of the commission he was of unsound mind. The evidence paints the defendant as a quiet and peaceful citizen welcoming his friends in a genial manner; a perfect character. Every witness introuced spoke of him in this manner. Every witness, whether for the state or for the defense, said he was a man of good character. He was also a married man, an affectionate husband, was careful and diligent and painstaking in the care of his wife. Up to this disaster this was his history. He adorned his little cottage with evidences of his affection." General Pettus reviewed of his affection." General Pettus reviewed the testimony of Mr. Gaston, and held the evidence of the witnesses that Percy Wood did not move a muscle after the first shot was a human impossibility. He held that the testimony of the eye-witnesses of the shooting was clouded. "The primary cause of the shooting," he said, "was the seduction of the defendant's wife by Mardis Wood. Mardis Wood and the defendant were intimate friends. Kennedy said that Mardis Wood was his truest and best friend."

General Pettus held that Kennedy had been betrayed by his truest and best friend and that such an an affamy had never been perfectrated by the midnight assassin. He then referred to the close association of Mardis Wood and Kennedy in the courthouse of Dallas, covering a long period of years, and held that the Livingston incident looked like the continuation of a connection between Wood and Mrs. Kennedy which had been previously established.

General Pettus then addressed himself to the court on the subject of the habits and disposition of the defendant upon hearing of the news of his wife's infidelity, which change had been shown by the evidence covered the entire period from the hearing of these reports and the departure of his wife on February 28th to the 20th of April. Five out of seven witnesses testified to the great changes in the manner and disposition of the defendant, which continued for he testimony of Mr. Gaston, and held the eral Pettus read the designity-first Alabama report, in the case of Harsons yersus the state, which held that a disease of the mind can be proven to show insanity and that it must not be held alone that the defendant knew the difference between right and wrong.

The blasting of a man's hope of the hereafter, here at least, is what breaks down a man's mind; he thanked God for the taking away of that girl baby of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's that she was not here to share his infamy; to share its brand. This defendant, the evidence shows, was impelled to do this act by the pressure of this infamy on his mind, and he is neither morally or legally responsible for what he did, concluded the distinguished jurist.

After General Pettus closed he was greeted by a round of applause.

The Closing Speech.

The Closing Speech. In opening the closing speech Mr. White, for the state, said he would not ring in sympathy, whether for Mr. Kennedy's sorrow and blasted hopes or for the tears of those who weep that Percy Wood occurrence. of those who weep that Percy Wood occuples an untimely grave. The court was to say whether the defendant was guilty and should be held or whether he was suffering from a leison of the brain. The defense had offered two pleas; one of not guilty and the other insanity. Under the plea of not guilty the only evidence introduced by the defense which was admissible was-the evidence as to the character of the defendant. If the defendant was insane, even though he was the worst character in the community he would go scott free. There community he would go scott free. There is no question that Kennedy did the shooting and the only evidence he has introing and the only evidence he has introduced is that of good character and he has proven as good character as was evel proven in this courthouse. The state has proven that he committed a deliberate assassination, and the fact that he has proven a good character does not necessarily mitproven that he committed a deliberate assassination, and the fact that he has proven a good character does not necessarily mitigate the 'udgment of the court. Under the first plea the laboring oar is on the state, but under the second plea, that of insanity, the laboring oar is on the defense the defense must prove the insanity of the defense must prove the insanity of the defendant to the satisfaction of the court. Mr. White then reviewed the testimony of the witnesses as to the shooting and claimed that the defendant was on trial now for the killing of Percy Wood and not for the shooting of Mardis Wood. He held that under the evidence Kennedy was guilty of murder in the first degree, or he was not guilty and should be allowed to go free. Mr. White stated that it was the first time in his experience that insanity of this nice tend was pleaded in a trial before a justice of the peace.

Mr. White then proceeded to discuss the theory of insanity and held that under the decisions of the supreme court of Alabama the defense had not proven its theory of insanity. He held that the alleged threats of Percy Wood that if Kennedy attempted to harm Mardis he would have both to kill, made several weeks before the killing, had no bearing on this case. These threats he held, if the killing had occurred in Selma at once migut be introduced, but thirty of forty days had elapsed and this shooting occurred in Montgomery far away from the home of the parties. If Mr. Kennedy wished to avenge himself on Percy Wood, he had ample opportunities in Selma. Why not take advantage of these occasions?

In conclusion, Mr. White reviewed the

In conclusion, Mr. White reviewed the testimony of the witnesses for the state as to the condition of the mind of Mr. Kennedy and he contended that causes testified to would produce the effects without the subject being insane. He claimed that in all times Kennedy was hugging revenge, and in his frenzy he killed Percy and shot Mardis Wood.

Mr. White closed his speech at 1:25 p. m.

in all times kennedy was hugging revenge, and in his frenzy he killed Percy and shot Mardis Wood.

Mr. White closed his speech at 1:25 p. m. Justice Screws then rose and stated that he had great sympathy for Percy Wood and all who suffer with him. He believed that the first shot struck Percy Wood. Believed that the great strain had overbalanced the mind of the defendant and taking the theory of the prosecution that the defendant should be remanded without ball or be discharged, he felt that he must discharge the defendant.

The decision was generously applauded. Mr. Kennedy left for his home in Selma at 9:30 tonight, surrounded by a car load of his friends. He made a splendid impression here, his conduct and bearing at all times being that of a thorough gentleman.

He has had the sympathy of the commu-nity throughout his distressing experience and the verdict of the justice is almost universally applauded here.

CAPITOL STRUCK BY LIGHTNING Missouri Is Having a Time with Rain, Flood and Storm.

St. Louis, May 22.-The Mississippi river is now within three feet of the danger line in front of this city. This morning the gauge registered twenty-seven feet, a rise of nearly two feet during the pas twenty-four hours. It is expected that the danger line will morning and plead not guilty.

A large crowd assembled to see the prisoner on the arrival of the Baltimore train last night, but Sheriff Wade took the precaution of alighting at another station and driving his charge to jail while the crowd remained at the railroad depot.

The prisoner seemed greatly relieved when he was lodged in a cell guarded by two deputy sheriffs. The jail is a dilapi dated structure and could easily be broken into by a band of men so disposed, and it was because of this fact that Cocking was taken to Baltimore for safe keeping immediately after the double murder. How-ever, there appears to be no disposition to take advantage of the jail's weakness. While there are a large number of persons here who have no doubt of the guilt of the accused, the lynching spirit, so manifest at the time of the horror, has died out and there appears to be an entire wil-lingness to give the accused man a fair and impartial trial.

THE DEATH ROLL.

· Bernard Franklin

Augusta, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—Mr. Bernard Granklin, one of the best known orron buyers in Augusta, died today Though he had been ill for some time his death was not anticipated and the news was a shock to his friends in Cotton row. About six weeks ago he was taken sick with some heart trouble and was danger-ously ill for some time. He convalesced, however, and last Friday he had so far recovered as to be able to be out talking with friends. A relapse occurred Saturday morn-ing. Mr. Franklin was about fifty-three years of age and was originally from Athens. He married Miss Harris, of that city, in 1882. His remains will be carried there tomorrow for interment.

Just as the procession attending the luneral of Colonel Lofton was leaving the Edgerton house the following sad telegram was received by Mrs. Lane, her sister, Mrs. Kibbee, being in the procession:

"Washington, D. C., May 22, 1896.—Mrs. W. C. Kibbee, Macon, Ga.: Mrs. Commagerie died suddenly this morning; will be buried at Arlington Monday.

"T. W. LORD."

The deceased was the sister of Mrs. Lane and Mrs. Kibbee and eldest daughter of the late E. E. Brown. She was born and reared in Macon. She married Mr. M. B. Peters, who died in 1889. She went to Washintgon in 1874, and was employed in the patent office department, and having more than twenty years' experience she was regarded one of the most efficient ladies in the department. In 1839 she was married to Major Commagerie, who had been an officer in the United States army. He died in 1889, leaving his widow a handsome competence. Her only child died a number of years ago. Mrs. Kibbee and her sister, Miss Josette Brown, left this afternoon for Washington to attend the funeral.

Tomorrow he may probably visit the shops of the Georgia Southern railway, as he has received to pressing invitation from the laboring men to call on them.

This afternoon, in company with Dupon Guerry, Judge Crisp visited the superior court room, while the members of the bar vere engaged in setting cases, and so great an interest was manifested by the lawyers o shake hands with Judge Crisp that Judge Felton, who was presiding, had to rap vig-

Felton, who was presiding, had to rap vigorously for order.
Finally Washington Dessau, a "sound money" man, moved that the court take a recess of five minutes to enable the people to shake hands with Judge Crisp.

The motion was unanimously adopted and the bar enthusiastically availed itself of the privilege. Judge Felton courteously invited Mr. Crisp to a seat on the bench, saying, "It is a position you once gracefully occupied and highly honored."

Judge Crisp has been given a regular ovation in Macon today and tonight.
Congressman Bartlett arrived last night and has been hard at work all day in silver's interest, and in behalf of Judge Crisp. He is the earnest champion of both, and says Bibb will yot triumphantly for Crisp and bimetallism. Crisp's principal object in coming to Macon at the present time is to confer with Mr. Bartlett.

Senola, Ga., May 22 .- (Special.)-There is more excitement in Senoia today over the outrageous story concerning the capture of Tom Delk, as published in The Atlanta Journal of Thursday, than there was when Mr. McWilliams brought Tom in town Thursday afternoon.

The good citizens of this place and comnunity take 'The Journal's story as an outrage upon themselves and upon the morality of this section of the state. By its reference to illicit distilleries, its virtual denunciation of Mr. McWilliams as an imposter, the statement that McWilliams furnished Delk with liquor and drugged him; the statement that McWilliams and Delk were drunk when they came to Atlanta, and other false and malicious charges and instructions, The Journal has aroused the indignation of the entire community.

Mr. W. W. Banks, one of Senoia's most highly esteemed merchants and manufacturers, and others accompanied Mr. McWilliams and the prisoner to Atlanta, and they state that Mr. McWilliams de-ported himself as the gentleman that he is That the capture was made as reported Pardue, C. F. Sasser, Lee Hutchirson, W. M. Glass, W. B. Ed-wards, Lem Edwards and The Constitution's correspondent visited the scene of the capture and found unmistakable evi-dence of the terrible struggle and of the whole story in all its thrilling details as reported by Delk, Mr. Entreken and Mr. McWilliams and published in The Constitu-

said: "Why. I know what was the matter with the lying reporter who wrote that. I told him the whole story and he kept following me around afterwards and worrying me until I got tired of it. He finally asked me for my picture, and I told him I didn't have time to trouble about it and that I was tired of him. He insisted, saying that would gain notoriety by it and that it would be worth something to me. I called him a d-d fool and told him I was not hunting notoriety and asked him if my picture would be worth anything to him. He said it would. I then told him if it would be worth so much to him, just to pay me $15 and he could have it, and if he did not want to do that to shut up. That cussing made the freshy reporter mad and he just wanted to get even with me. I never offered to se'l him informa-tion, and he is a liar when he says it. If The Journal can't tell the truth better about other things than it can about me and Delk and free silver, it had better shut up shop."

Indignation here today is such that quite number of The Journal's subscriber have already written asking that their papers be stopped and making The Jour-nal a present of what it has to their credit. The subscribers to that paper speak of eeting tomorrow and taking action in a McWilliams was on the streets of Senoia with his prisoner, Tom Delk, within one hour after his capture and both men were perfectly sober. McWilliams is a hard working farmer living only three miles from Senoia and we believe his story to be correct.

This afternoon the party which went to the scene of the capture found by directions given to Mr. McWilliams by Delk, the place in the woods where Delk has camped since his father's capture.

Tom selected a spot in the deep recesses of Line creek swamp. There he slept upon a bed of canes and did his cooking in a small tin can. The place was an ideal one for such a life as the young outlaw led, and there he might have lived for an age without detection. It was not more than one-fourth of a mile from the place of his capture.

—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. TRAGEDY ON A TRAIN.

Griffin, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—A big negro excursion went from here to Macon yesterday carrying more than a thousand people of all ages and conditions. On the return trip a fight between Riley Hicks and Homer Freeman resulted in the former being cut to death by the latter. The crowd was very full of whisky when the train pulled out of Macon, and almost as soon as the wheels began to move the fighting commenced. Hicks and Freeman were old enemies, and as chance would have it, got into the same coach on the return trip. Both had been drinking and the fuss between them began, some say about a woman's parasol. During the scrimmage and while Hicks had Freeman down beating him the latter drew his knife and succeeded in cutting his antagonist several times. One of the wound was an upward stab in the region of the heart, from the effects of which Hicks died just as the train stopped at the Griffin depot. Physicians were summoned at once, but the man was dead before any help could be given.

During and after the fight the wildest excitement prevalled, while the scene in the coach in which the killing occurred beggars description. Men were cursing and struggling with the two infurlated negroes trying to separate them, women were shrieking, children were crying, while the murderer stood with the bloody knife in his hand defying arrest. As soon as the train officials heard of the disturbance the car doors were locked and the remainder of the run was made without a stop.

As the train reduced its speed for the Hill street crossing Freeman took advantage of the prevailing excitement and made his escape through a window. It is believed, however, that he has not gone far and will be captured in a short while. was an upward stab in the region of th lieved, however, that he has not gone fa and will be captured in a short while. AN AFFRAY IN RABUN COUNTY One of the Combatants Was Seriously

Stabbed. Clayton, Ga., May 22 .- (Special.)-Wednesday night about dark Mr. W. F. Roan, a farmer of considerable means residing two miles south of Clayton, in this county, while on his way home from this place, became involved in a difficulty with J. B. Murray while opposite Murray's resi-dence. Walter Rémbert, a stepson of Murray's and nephew of Roan, approached the combatants at the request of his aged grandfather, with a view of separating

When the young man came within range of a walking stick which Roan was using on the stepfather, he began to apply it vigorously to the stepson.

Presently the contending parties separated and made friends, when Mr. Roan got in his wagon and drove off home, half a mile distant. When he got home it was ascertained that he had been stabbed in fifteen places. A physician was immediately summoned and the wounded man given the proper surgical and medical aid. Two of the wounds, one in the neck and the other in the abdomen, are serious and may result fatally, though the patient was resting well this morning.

DROWNING AT COLUMBUS Little Valentine Tuggle Drowns While Bathing in the River.

Columbus, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—A very sad drowning occurred here this afternoon, the victim being little Valentine Tuggle, the nine-year-old son of Mr. M. H. Tuggie The little fellow, with two or three playmates, all about his age, went in bathing n the Chattahoochee river a short dis tance above the old hospital building, at a spot where several fatalities are said to have occurred. The boys apprehended no danger, wading about near the bank, but Valentine Tuggle ventured out a little too far into the stream, where it was deeper and swifter than he anticipated, and was suddenly swept away by the rapid cur-rent, his companions being powerless to rescue him. Late in the afternoon the body was found about a quarter of a mile lower down the river, lodged against a jetty. It was recovered and has been prepared for Killed with a Knife. Augusta, Ga., May 22,-(Special.)-News reached the city today that Aubert Collier, the colored driver for Mrs. Lamar, who lives at Beech island, was killed last night. The killing occurred on the plantation of Mr. J. B. Hankinson, across the river. He got into a difficulty with another negro, who slashed him across the abdomen with a knife, completely disemboweling him.

He is easily one of the brainiest men in college, having taken an active part in every line of college activity. Mr. Cowles W. Little. of Eatonton, received fourth honor. This distinction was won by hard work on his part, and his fellow students were delight at his success. Speakers' places, won by scholarship, were also awarded Messrs. R. F. Carey, T. J. Johnston, J. J. Flanders, W. J. Bryan, E. R. Hines, J. C. McRae, I. C. Jenkins and Olin S. Dean.

Dr. Candler left this morning for Macon to attend the Wesleyan commencement. His daughter, Miss Florence Candler, takes first honor in the senior class at that institution this year. He will preach the missionary sermon there Sunday.

Miss Daisy Monroe, a charming young lady from Quincy, Fla., reached Oxford this afternoon. She will remain through the commencement festivities as the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Dickey.

The senior class gave a delightful reception at the home of Mr. F. M. Means last night. There was quite a large party present and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed.

perior court before Judge Lumpkin, was terminated yesterday afternoon late. Several years ago Parish was a machinis in the old rolling mill. He worked hard and industriously, and saved from his earnings enough money to enable him to buy a littl me and start out in business for himself. Upon the home was a homestead which was taken out by Mrs. Parish. In the meantime Parish enlarged his business and was apparently doing well, when the property was transferred to L. Cohen, one his largest creditors. The plaintiff in the case, who was the nineteen year-old daughter of Parish claimed that she was entitled to the money arising from the sale of the who held the homestead upon the home. The Drought in Sumter County Broken,

Americus Items. Americus, Ga., May 22 .- (Special.)-The protracted drought in this section was broken last night by a heavy rain, which extended over three or four counties at east, in this section. Six miles south of Americus and along Flint river hail fell as well, doing a great deal of damage to young cotton on several plantations. At one place the wind blew furiously, uprooting large trees and doing considerable damage as well.

The democratic executive committee Sumter county met today and named June 6th as the date for the congressional pri-mary election, at which time del gates to the state convention, members of the legis voted for. It was ordered that voters vote voted for. It was ordered that voters vote direct for the man of their choice for congress, the successful one to name his four delegates to the convention afterwards. Of course there will be no contest in Sumter or Macon counties.

The executive committee has not yet fixed the date of the primary for county officers, though the score of candidates are anxious that this be done very soon.

The Sumter county Agricultural Society met in monthly session today, a large number of representative farmers attending. The subject discussed was "Long Forage—How Best to Make and Preserve It."

Many interesting talks were made and the subject discussed at length. At the next meeting the subject for discussion is "Farm Lands—How best to Preserve Them."

This society has a very large membership and is doing a good work in this section.

Arrested at a Funeral.

P. C. McIntyre will be tried this afternoon before Justice. Bloodwerth on the charge of being a common cheat and swindler. It seems that McIntyre bought some goods and gave for them securities that turned out to be bad. He was arrested Thursday at Buckheal, while attending a funeral. He easily gave bond and it is likely that he will come out of the trouble all right.

> High Humidity Mixed with the Heat Made Yesterday a Day of Great Discomfort.

Yesterday was as oppressive as any day of the season, but the discomfort was due principally to the humidity. The maximum emperature only reached 86, which is five degrees coolor than the record for this summer, but on account of the great quantity of moisture in the air, humidity almost 90 per cent, the suffering was as intense as on the hottest day when the humidity was not so great. Light showers have fallen at the cotton region stations belonging to the centers of Atlanta, Augusta and Savannah, the heavest average occurring at the Augusta center. In North Carolina the rains have again been heavy, the eight stations belonging to the Wilmington center averaging 0.64 of an inch.

The distribution of barometric pressure is favorable for another hot spell, and the utlook for rain is not quite so good as yes-erday. Forecaster Hunt looked at the murky clouds overhead yesterday afternoon and declared that they looked favorable to those who did not understand the science of Dame Weather's fickleness, but that to an old hand at making forecasts the clouds were not deceptive.

"They will bring very little if any rain," he said. "All conditions being carefully considered I am afraid we can have little tope for rain." The bulletin issued yesterday for the cotfollows:

Last night ex-Manager Stillwell left Brunswick Today creditors were hunting for him with garnishments and all were hot in the collar. Stillwell caught them right and left and besides owing Proprietor duBignon $1,000, owes altogether about that amount in va-rious sums to local creditors. His baggage was all shipped via the Mallory today, and when an attempt was made to attach it, the officers were balked on account of its being in Mrs. Stillwell's name.

Stillwell's family left for the north two weeks ago to spend the summer months and local creditors now think they will also spend the winter months there. Still well's home is in Shrewsberry, N. Y. Pro prietor duBignon assumed control of the oglethorpe yesterday and today appointed Chief Clerk Aiken to manage it. The hotel will remain open without 'nterruption. Stillwell's disappearance has created a breeze in local business circles today.

Only Fair Play Asked. Since the liar is abroad in the land it may be well to copper misrepresentation For the benefit of those who do not understand that a speech is one thing and able supply of gold of the world. These a garbled extract from one expression

Much has been said about bolting, in speaking of the possible outcome of the bleeding the people by draining gold Chicago convention. This sentiment is out of the treasury for the purpose of particularly rampant among the gold standard organs throughout the country, and that the talk is more substance than shadow is made apparent by the fact that the gold wing of the party, recognizing that they are in a hopeless minor Sty, are already greasing the skids for Their slide from the party, as the result | bonds is a part of their business, and it of the action of the Chicago convention. The gold men in Illinois have given up and are now effecting an independent organization. The same thing is being done in Texas and a bolting delegation has been sent from Nebraska.

Acting in accordance with the rule or ruin policy which has characterized the executive administration of affairs at Washington during the past three years, the gold element of the party, in the desperation of certain defeat, openly announce in the states where the democratic party is weakest, that if they annot force the party to the republican position on the currency question they will leave it.

This brings up the question of the duty of democrats after the national convention has spoken at Chicago. No man who is a true democrat will refuse to abide a fair and honestly ascertained expression of democratic sentiment. One of the cardinal principles of democracy is to abide the decision of the majority; but this principle to be operative in its full force must have back of it two things: First, the certainty that any expression of the party must be that of "the majority, and not the minority; and Asecond, that this expression must be honestly ascertained. These two things being true, no man who pretends to be a democrat has the right to bolt from the party; and yet the gold standard organs, noticeably of the east, are openly proclaiming that democrats in that section will not follow the party if it disagrees to their demand for the recognition and approval of the single gold standard and the contraction of the currency to that

It is not untimely to let the public understand that a resort to smart tricks to silence the participation of regularly elected delegations to the Chicago convention will not be tolerated for an instant. We are confident that by the time the convention meets the sentimen in be half of a return to honest democratic principles on the currency will be so overwhelming as to make the result even more certain than now appears. the fact that by a judicious distribution of patronage a majority of the members of the national committee may be in favor of the gold standard will be no justification for a departure from the time-honored methods by which the party, in national convention, has sought every four years to obtain an honest expression from the representatives of the party from every state. In the first place, the talk of the national committee passing upon credentials is absurd, because that is a matter which is always left to the committee on credentials which consists of one member from each state, to be chosen by the respective state delegations. The plan of the gold standard minority is to bring about some of the strongest silver states may be denied participation in the deliberations of the committee on credentials. All that is asked is fair play, and this not only asked but demanded.

An honest expression of the party, honestly ascertained, will leave no exattempt to resort to either fraud or trickery will be repudiated the moment it becomes apparent.

The Bond Bill. At the mass meeting of the democrat of Fulton county, in the Columbia theater, Wednesday night, this declaration was made in the resolutions unanimous ly adopted by the meeting:

"If the emergency for a bond issue should arise, we hold that, as the people are to pay the obligation thus incurred, no issue of bonds should be authorized unless by the consent of the people's representatives in congress."

The resolution of which this declaration is a part embodies one of the most important principles of democracy. The power to issue bonds without the consent of the people's representatives involves the power to destroy the prosperity of the people themselves and to take away from them the right to enjoy life and liberty. The protest of the Fulton county democracy goes to the core of the matter.

We are somewhat surprised, therefore, to see Senator David B. Hill, who, a few years ago, went about declaring "I am a democrat." placing himself in opposition to the consideration of a bill to prevent further bond issues without specific authority from congress.

Mr. Hill might very well oppose such a bill by voting against it. His vote would be undemocratic, of course, but the time has passed when an eastern man who calls himself a democrat is expected to support democratic measures on the noney question.

But Senator Hill betrays an anxiety so keen an opposition so eager to this democratic measure, that those who are inerested in guessing at the motives that prompt him will have to go deeper than mere political considerations.

The power back of this opposition to this measure comes from those that are out for more bonds-the international concerns represented in New York by those who are able to control the availinternational firms, by the consent and active assistance of the president and the secretary of the treasury, have been giving the shadow of an excuse for issuing unauthorized bonds.

But let not the people who are the victims of this infamous system of robbery make the mistake of supposing that the international bankers are responsible for it. To deal in gold and buy is as legitimate as to deal in any other product or commodity. These international bankers could get neither the gold nor the bonds if the president obeyed the laws and carried out the policy of the government. But he violates one and ignores the other, and has thus made the people the victims of the most infamous financial system that selfish greed and avarice ever invented.

Senator Hill's opposition to the bill to make it unlawful to issue bonds without the specific consent and authority of the representatives of the people in ongress is not based on the fact that the measure is not democratic, for it embodies the very essence of pure denocracy. The principle of right or justice that applier to individuals and firms applies to the business affairs of the people. No individual or firm would permit an agent to run him or it into debt without specific authority.

Cleveland and Carlisle are merely the agents of the people, and, although they act as if they were trying to destroy the government itself, they do not run it.

Captain Neal on Banks

One of the most interesting addresses at the recent meeting of the Georgia Bankers' Association was that delivered by Captain T. B. Neal, of this city. He talked on banks as necessary adjuncts of civilization and was fortunate in the selection of his subject, which he discussed in the clear, forcible and businesslike manner for which he has acquired no ordinary distinction. Representing one of the strongest banking institutions in Atlanta, Captain Neal was well equipped for the task of presenting in a most interesting manner the relations between the banks and the

In the discussion of the currency ques tion, now uppermost in the public mind t is certainly not the intention of any body to array the people against the banks, for such a course will be illadvised and uncalled for. The banks are closely allied with the best citizenship of the country and too intimately identified with its commercial interests to have any misunderstanding between them and the people. Even the bankers themselves are divided on the currence question, some favoring one thing and some another. But whatever may be their opinions, the people should credit to them the same sincerity which they claim for themselves.

Destruction of American Forests.

Within the last few weeks several destructive fires have played sad havoc with the American forests.

Immense tracts have been destroyed on Long Island, in northwestern Connecticut, among the Adirondacks, in the eighborhood of Portsmouth, N. H., in New Jersey, near Concord, Mass., and in various other parts of New England, besides numerous destructive fires in the western states.

In Massachusetts one of these frightful devastations swept away the groves made sacred by the pen of Emerson, and in the midst of which he imbibed the greater portion of his quaint philosophy. Henry D. Thoreau and Nathaniel Hawthorne were also tenants of these familiar woods.

In addition to the loss of forest tr there has likewise been the incidental loss of property and farm crops. Rarely cuse for the bolt of any element, but an | do fires of this kind break out without destroying barns and farmhouses, and frequently human life itself is sacrificed.

The Brooklyn Eagle, in explaining the cause of these fires, fastens the responsibility upon hunters who camp out in the woods and farmers who have failed to take proper care in burning up the rubbish which has collected during the winter months.

There is need of vigorous legislation just here in order to prevent a recurrence of these frightful visitations. Instead of allowing the forests to be swept away in this manner there is every reason why these vast areas should be preserved. The forest is a great protection to the land, and often prevents the cyclone from executing its mission of disster and death. The severity of these disturbances is mitigated and sometimes altogether prevented by the obstacles which the forest interposes in its path. For these and other reasons our for est area should be preserved.

The Views of Hon. Josiah Patterson. The Hon. Josiah Patterson has come and gone. He delivered his speech in behalf of the gold standard, bowed and then went on his way, convinced no doubt that he had done his whole duty in behalf of the "consecrated" cause of sound" money and unsound prices-

'honest" dollars and dishonest prices. He said nothing new in behalf of the single gold standard, but he is not to be blamed for that. He did the best he could, and, in fact, did just as well as any other advocate of the gold standard ould have done. Like the rest of them, he declared that a dollar that would buy only half as much cotton, wheat and other commodities as the present dollar would be 50 cents, and, therefore, a "dishonest" dollar, but he didn't explain why it was that, in 1873 and years prior to that year, the gold dollar was not considered a "dishonest" dollar.

According to Hon. Josiah's assertions dollar that will buy as much as the gold dollar bought up to 1873 is a 50cent dollar; but he doesn't tell us why the bankers and financial experts persisted in regarding the gold dollar of 1873 as a 100-cent dollar.

Why, a silver dollar melted down will buy just as great a quantity of the commodities that are offered for sale as the gold dollar would buy in 1873 and during the years when bimetallism prevailed! The Hon. Josiah doesn't explain that, because to try to do so would give his vhole case away.

The Hon. Josiah lacks an original mind, but he knows very well that to attempt to explain all the various results of silver demonetization, according to his own assumptions, would be to give his whole case away. So that while he is anxious to assume in some matters, he is just as anxious for silence in others. But he made one statement that is worth saving from the trash pile. He declared that if he were an advocate of the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, he would yield his convictions at this time to save the party from a disastrous split. This is a very astonishing state ment to come from a man who is supposed to have his eyes and ears open In the democratic states 90 per cent of the voters are for free coinage. Are they to yield their convictions because the 10 per cent who want to indorse republican doctrine show signs of bolting? Such a thing is unprecedented in the history of politics. It is opposed to the very essence of democracy. It is ernment. "Let the majority rule," said the founders of our government. "Let the majority rule," said the great founder of the democratic party; and it is today, as it ever has been, one of the fundamental principles of democracythe source of strength, the source of har mony, the source of success, the source of safety, the one assurance that we have of the stability of republican insti-

The people can speak only through the mouth of majorities. To yield convictions for the purpose of preventing a revolt on the part of a minority-and such a minority as that represented by Congressman Patterson-would be to sac rifice not only the party but the interests of the people. Would it be wise or patriotic to bring about such a resul as that? Let any candid and impartial man look abroad over the country, taking note of the situation, and tell us where he sees any sign of a party revolt? What faction has bolted? What faction is threat ening to bolt? What is the history of the "split" that Hon. Josiah Patterson fears?

In Kentucky a few gold men bolted he party caucus and defeated the election of a democratic United States sen ator. John G. Carlisle has declared over his own signature that members of a legislature owe no allegiance to party but to their immediate constituents. In Texas the gold men are organizing party of their own. In Nebraska a handful of federal of ficials have held a convention and propose to send a contesting delegation to Chicago.

In Illinois the gold men, despairing of access at the polls, are organizing to hold a convention of their own.

In Kentucky they are already prepared to take similar steps if they are defeated at the polls.

In short, wherever the gold men are in hopeless minority, they have already bolted or are preparing to bolt. It is only in the republican states, where the entire party machinery is in the hands of the agents of the money power, that the gold men are showing any zeal for party harmony and unity.

Where they have control they insist on their views. Where they are in a hopeless minority they immediately show signs of revolt.

Undoubtedly the minority has rights and these have been carefully maintained by the democratic party. But it is the first duty of a democrat to acquiesce in the will of the majority fairly ascer tained and fully expressed. Of course those who do not hold democratic views have the right to refrain from acting with the party; but they are not demo

The Jonesboro Enterprise says that the goldbugs of Clayton have placed them-selves in a positively ludicrous position. They plead with the silver advocates against any mention of the financial question in the deliberations of the party Clayton, claiming that agitation would de-stroy party harmony; they are, at the same time, bending their most earnest efforts, laying schemes and planning tricks, to put a goldbug into every office in the county that is of any importance. GOLD MEN GIVE UP

A General Surrender All Along the Line of Battle.

NEW YORK PAPERS CONCEDE

That Silver Will Control at the Chicago Convention-What They Say About It.

The Herald Gives It Up. Washington, May 21.-(Special.)-There is mocracy. The defeat of Chairman Richardson and the scund money machine in Iowa, coupled with the discouraging news received from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky has brought the sound money men to a full realization of the grave danger of the silver men controlling the Chicago conven. tion. I have talked with some leading democrats in congress and administration circles today, and find that the silver men are jubilant over the situation, while the sound money men are correspondingly downcast For some time past these states have been regarded as pivotal states, and now that all the returns have a decidedly silver ring to them the sound money men appear to be on the defensive, and are not a little puzzled to know what to do to stem the tide. The prevailing opinion that the St. Louis convention will adopt a sound money platform has apparently caused many politiclans who have not the true interests of the country at heart to believe that the only chance for the success of the democratic party lies in taking the opposit course from that of the republicans with the hope of attracting to their standard the free silver men of all parties

How Delegates Will Vote. a result of talks with a number of leading democrats on both sides of the question, and with the assistance of eading sound money democrat, who has been keeping close watch of the primaries and county conventions in the various states, I have prepared this statement as showing what the probabilities are at present as to the attitude of the delegates of the Chicago convention:

Until two weeks ago the sound men were counting with a great deal of confidence upon carrying the Iowa delegation, but, although they controlled the state organization, and had the machinery in their hands, the influence of former Governor Boies and the silver sentiment in the state have been too strong for them to overcome. There is every probability that they will be just as badly defeated in Illinois. In that state the silver men have the advantage of controlling the organization, and Governor Altgeld is show ng himself to have the situation so well in hand that he will in all probability have bsolute control of the state convention That he will have a majority of the delegation for free silver is admitted by many of the sound money men, and it is expected that the unit rule will be adopted, thus placing the entire Illinois delegation of forty-eight in the silver column Significant! From The New York Financial News. The Daily Financial News has repeated ly stated in its columns that in the important monetary issue now confronting the repblic the facts and arguments were indisputably on the side of the bimetallists, and that ultimately the eastern press and our business men would con cede the justice of our western and southern fellow citizens in their demand for the free coinage of silver. It is, therefore, with unusual interest that we note in The New York Journal, owned by Mr. Hearst, and one of the leading New York papers coming out in an editorial under the ing of "The Worth of a Dollar," me facts which deserve more than passing comment at this time. After referring to views of western men on the money question, it says:

to views of western men on the money question, it says:

"Facts such as these are things which it would be well for the eastern man, who is himself a lender rather than a borrower, to keep in mind. There is too much inclination on the part of the people resident in the money-lending section of the country to dismiss with a sneer the demand of the debtor states for a very material amendment of the monetary system, to the end that the dollar paid today may not be worth more than the dollar borrowed yesterday. It is easy to preach about the honest' dollar, and it is very easy to make the phrase a fetish which shall bring to the support of the principle therein expressed the entire community of money lenders. But the really honest dollar is the dollar which is neither better nor worse today than it was a year ago. No man who has studied the effect of the single gold standard in our monetary system can be blind to the fact that the dollar as established under that system increases in value daily. It is not an honest dollar; it cannot be an honest dollar, and while it is entirely possible that immediate insistence on the coinage of silver at 16 to 1 may not be only unwise, but unsafe, yet it is even more certain that some qualification of the gold standard is absolutely necessary if prosperity and the value of a man's labor or the produce of a farm shall be kept at its honest value."

We predict before many weeks The New York Journal will come out openly for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. York Journal will come out openly for the ree coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

Drifting to Silver. From The New York Evening Post.
The later drift of the democratic party toward free silver coinage is very marked, and it will require the most resolute action of the opponents of that policy to stem the tide or to make a place for the Will Be for 16 to 1.

From The Brooklyn Times. Will not New York democrats be laughed to scorn when they get to Chicago and attempt to dictate a gold plank? The Chicago plank will be a 16 to 1 announce and the convention of Iowa democrats is

From The Chicago Tribune.

There is nothing for the sound money democrats of this state to do now but to lie down and be trampled on, or to take the bull by the horns and set up in business for themselves, just as the anti-Hill democrats of New York did two years ago when the machine tried to ride over them. The Illinois democrats who will not accept free silver must have an organization of own, and elect delegates who will sit and vote in the honest money national conven-

"Will Occasion No Surprise."

From The Philadelphia North American. A rumor, which carries with it strong probabilities of truth, is abroad to the ffect that within the last ten days an understanding has been reached whereby the populists of every state in the union are to accept the platform and candidate of the democratic national convention at Chicago in the event of both being for free silver. Such an agreement will oc casion no surprise to those who have watched the drift of what is left of the Eckels Says the Jig Is Up.

From The St. Louis Republ Washington, May 20 .- Comptroller Eckels has returned from Illinois. He has kept busy this morning answering queries from officials of high and low degree concerning the outcome of the silver fight in the Illinois state convention. Said Mr. Eckels:

"The Peoria convention will be dominated by Governor Altgeld's state machine and will do his bidding. There are different stories as to what the governor really wants. Just what he desires will not be known until the delegates are all elected and assemble in the state convention. The governor will then make known his platform, and the convention will carry it out." "What do gold democrats propose to do "Don't know what policy they will pursue. They are indignant at the machine nethods of Altgeld. As to the probability of their nominating an independent ticket headed by John C. Black in accordance with the suggestion of Senator Palmer, I know nothing and prefer to say nothing. I wish to voice my admiration of Governor Altgeld's state machine. It works perfectly. There is pot a pebble in the cogs, apparently to interfere with the grinding," Comptroller Eckels went to Illinois as the agent of the administration. He reports the battle lost, and this news, taken in connection with the authoritative reports from Indiana and Kentucky and both states will go for free silver convinces the adm tion democrats that the silver men are almost certain to control at Chicago. Mr. Eckels says the "sound money" men will find a way to make their power and influence count. All for Silver.

From The Chicago Record. Yesterday's events in political circles will tend to confirm the general impression that the forthcoming democratic convention at faction being the supporters of the gold standard. In Iowa the democrats assen bled at Dubuque were somewhat embarrassed by the state central committee seection of a single standard man for tem porary chairman, but no one man and no one speech against the 16 to 1 propostion could prevent the adoption of a platform radically favoring free silver coinage. The Iowa democrats will lend their important influence to that of the states which have already declared for free silver, and their course will have the moral effect of stimulating similar expressions elsewhere. Simultaneously with this declaration in lowa came the announcement yesterday that both Comptroller Eckels and the single standard Illinois democrats whom he had come to succor have practically given up the hope of securing control of the Peoria convention. The silver men n Cook county have the primaries in hand and will dominate in the county convention With the amount of silver sentiment which been manifested in the Illinois country districts and the activity of the forces of Governor Altgeld, it is hardly to be doubted that the state convention will go for free silver, leaving the other faction of the party to inaugurate whatever belated opposition it may secure upon the plea that the democracy has not been truly represented.

Taken together, the two leading events n democratic politics yesterday give very strong indications that the gold standard lement of the party will be unable to voice its views through the Chicago convention.

"In a Hopeless Minority." From The Philadelphia Ledger.

It is the misfortune of that part of the sound, honest money that they are in a hopeless minority in the greater number of those states which, in the electoral coi lege, gives votes to the democratic candidate. It is possible, but not at all probable, that the delegates of those states which can furnish few such votes will contend against the free silverites, if convinced that the opposition will result in a bolt of the latter and the loss of their votes in that body which really elects presidents.

The country has, it is very commonly feared, little reason to expect, or to hope even, that the democratic national conve tion will do anything to relieve it of the peralyzing effects of the free silver agitaion. The democratic solid south ca Tail to exert a powerful if not dominat influence at Chicago, and it can scarcely be conceived that its delegates will agree to stand upon a platform the financial plank of which is in accord with the gold standard. The delegates of some of the northern states even cannot be confidently

ALL CLAIMS WILL NOW BE PAID

The Exposition Company Will Now Settle All Its Debts.

GOVERNMENT HELP WELCOMED

The Appropriation from Uncle Sam Came at a Good Time.

WILL PAY FIFTY CENTS ON THE DOLLAR

Exposition Medals Are Scarce with Secretary Lewis-The Park Plan Seems Finally Abandoned.

There was joy among the ranks of the exposition directors yesterday when it became known that the conference com mittee had agreed to the senate amendternational Exposition Company what amount will remain from the government appropriation after all expenditures are day, "that the company will be able to pay 50 cents on the dollar on all claims from the government board comes in."

The thought of asking the government to turn over to the company what remained of the appropriation came to the directors about six weeks ago. With its own force of hands the exposition company graded the site of the government build-ing. This was done at a great expense, for the building was so situated that it required a great amount of work and the expense to the company amounted to very nearly $20,000. This came direct from the exposition treasury.

When it was found that the finances of the company after the close of the fair were in a rather weak condition and that it would be hard for all claims to be met amount expended in grading the site for Uncle Sam's big building. Then it was found that after all expenses of the government board had been met there would be over $15,000 remaining, which, it was intended by the board, should go back into the treasury of the United States. Imthe treasury of the United States. Im-mediate application was filed for this and President Charles A. Collier made a special tr.p to Washington. He secured the assent and approval of the government board, but it was necessary to get the matter lier recently made a second trip and urged lier recently made a second trip and urged its passage, spuring the Georgia representatives on to action and bringing about every influence to have the appropriation given over to the exposition company. There is no longer any doubt about the final success of the efforts of President Collier. It is expected that within a week or two the company will receive official notification that the amount is at their disposal

Will Pay It Out. It will not take the company long to pay off all claims as soon as the funds are received. The claims are now estimated at $19,000. Some of these the company will be forced to pay in full. It is expected by the officers of the company that when all assets are materialized that they will be able to pay the claims at 50 cents on the dollar.

"It will not take us long," said one of the directors yesterday, "to wind up affairs after the amount is received from the government. I judge that we can get everything off our hands within two weeks after the amount is received from the government board. This amount, I believe, as it now stands, is about $13,000. At first there was $15,000 remaining over the government appropriation, but I understand that other debts which will have to be paid were not taken into account. These deducted will leave about $13,000.

The dismantling of the exposition cost something," he continued. "The claim's against us were thereby increased and all these will have to be met. We are in a much better condition now," he added, "than we thought we would be."

Is Slow Work.

The work of shipping out the medals and diplomas continues under the direction of Secretary Lewis. The office of the company is now at 82 Marietta, and it is here that all the office business of the ex-position company is transacted. During the last two or three weeks it has been rather slow work getting off the medals, because of the fact that the Philadelphia house has failed to turn them out as fast as was expected. Yesterday a big package of diplomas was shipped to Mexico and another will be forwarded to Venezuela today.

The bronze medals are shipped direct from the offices of the exposition company. Orders for the gold medals are sent to the firms to be forwarded to the manufacturers of the medals. The order blanks are as follows:

Illness of Only Two Days.

At 9 o'clock last night, after an illness of only two days, little B. H. Hill, Jr., died at the home of his father in Inman Park. It was a grievous shock. Just three years old, possessed of a mind wonderful for a child of his age, the light and idol of the bousehold, the little fellow was suddenly snatched away and the grief was great. Thursday morning he was taken suddenly and severely ill. At first it was thought that he would recover and strenuous efforts were made by the most skillful physicians. But he grew rapidly worse and late yesterday afternoon all hope that he would get well was despaired of. Last hight de died. Announcement of the funeral exercises will be made later.

FOR A NEW MAIN

WATER COMMISSIONERS IN SES-SION YESTERDAY.

Matters of Importance To Be Presented at the Next Session of Council.

The board of water commissioners met on yesterday and some very important business was transacted.

The report of Superintendent Park Woodward, which embraced some very important improvements for the water supply, was adopted, including the new main into the city, a pipe for the first ward and larger mains for the central portion of the

The question of a new main from the vaterworks to the city has long been a very important question. It will be remembered that on one occasion the present large main bursted, and for twelve hour the city was practically helpless, in case of fire. If the report of the superintendent is adopted this danger will be avoided.

The board of water commissioners approved Mr. Woodward's report, and it will be presented to the council at its next meeting. The people in the first ward have long been insisting on a better water supply. If the report of the water board is adopted by the council they will get it. The business portion of the city will also get larger mains, if the council so orders. This will give the center of the city a water supply that will be abundantly sufficient poses, or for fire emergencies.

The report of the board of water com ners is a very important one, and is practically embraced in the following rec mendations of Superintendent ommendations of Superintendent Woodward:

"Atlanta, Ga., May 22, 1895.—Honorable Board of Water Commissioners, City of Atlanta. Gentlemen: In submitting this report I have the honor to call your attention to the condition of the appropriation for the new main authorized by council. I suggest that the board request the council to provide the necessary funds to complete this work, as it is exceedingly important and should be dote at once. The work of connecting the two mains has already been commenced, ten-inch pipe having been laid on Corput street, from Marietta to Plum street, and on Plum from Corput to Pine.

"The pipe on Linden avenue from Peachtree to Piedmont avenue, and on Piedmont avenue to Marietta avenue, has been completed, as ordered by the board.

"The work of taking up pipe at the exposition grounds has been completed. We have, since last meeting of the board, taken out 1,416 feet of ten-inch pipe and 516 feet of six-inch pipe. All the pipe has been taken out except a two-inch pipe connected with the four-inch main on Fourteenth street, which supplies the lake with water.

"The two thirty-inch check valves which are to be placed on Hemphill and Chattanooga avenues, have been received and hauled to their places, and will be put in the mains as soon as possible.

"All the material for the North Pryor and Church street mains is on hand and work will be commenced on these lines as soon as the thirty-inch check valves are set.

"The three-inch artesian pipe on Auburn avenue has all been taken out and carried to No. 2 pumping station, so as to give fire protection and water for the use of employes. There was 2,290 feet of this pipe.

"To perfect the fire service at this station, it is necessary to reinforce the three-inch pipe with 1,000 feet of four-inch pipe, which can be obtained from the exposition company.

First Ward Pipe.

"I respectfully call the attention of the board to the urgent necessity of giving some relief to the citizens of the first ward there, I have taken occasion to go over the ward, and after doing so, I urge that you authorize the laying at once of a six-inch pipe on Magnolia street, from Davis to Granger, on Granger to Hunter, on Hunter to Tatnall and on Tatnall to Mitchell. This will give them great relief and good fire protection.

fire protection.
"I make this recommendation at the urwells drying up and they are really in distress.

"The pipe necessary to complete this work will be 5,200 feet. You have already passed up pipe from Mitchell and Tatnall, out Hunter to Chestnut street. I suggest that the line leave Hunter at Granger instead of Chestnut. This will save 270 feet of pipe. There is no real necessity for the pipe beyond Granger street out Hunter at this

"Some time ago I called the attention of the board to the necessity of having larger mains in the business portion of the city. The board requested the council to provide the necessary funds to lay a twelve-inch main on Pryor and Decatur streets. Council granted the Pryor street, but refused the Decatur street main on account of not having the money.

"While it would probably be impossible for the council to make the necessary appropriation to do the work this year, I think it would be well to call the attention of the council to the matter, so that they may have it before them.

"The twenty-inch main on Marietta street should be extended to Pryor, and a twelve-inch out Decatur to Cornelia street, and a twelve-inch main should be laid on Whitehall street, and the small pipe on all of these streets removed.

"With the above mains laid, the city would be amply protected from fire.

Tapping the Meter Department.

Tapping the Meter Department. Tapping the meter Department.

"Thirty-nine taps have been made since the last meeting of the board; fire and drinking hydrants have been repaired and all services on new main on Marietta street have been renewed. Several drinking hydrants that were reported as nulsances have been taken out and located where they were needed more.

"Eight hundred and nineteen meters have been reneated since March 21st, and from "Eight hundred and nineteen meters have been repaired since March 21st, and from present appearances the work in this department is liable to get behind. A great many meters have been in use for so long a time that they will have to be repaired probably two or three times a year or until finally worn out. If meters were placed on the sidewalk, in suitable boxes, they could be taken out and reset in one-half of the time that is now taken and greatly lessen the complaints now being made of torn up yards, broken meter boxes, etc. Respectfully submitted, PARK WOODWARD. "Superintendent Atlanta Waterworks."

Atlanta will be represented at the meeting this year by Mr. Park Woodward, Captain R. M. Clayton, the city engineer, and Mr. J. B. Travis, chief engineer of the Atlanta waterworks. These gentlemen will leave for Indianapolis tonight and will go by Louisville, Ky., on their way, and make a thorough inspection of the waterworks system of that city.

Trolley Car Rage.

Trelley Car Rage.

The trolley car rage in Atlanta reached its height last night, when four cars, decorated with varied colored lights, went sailing over all the lines of the city, laden with merry pleasure seekers. The cars were illuminated with red, white and blue lights and each party had a full car load. This trolley car party idea, which has been so popular in all of the northern cities for the past two years, has taken fast hold in Atlanta and almost every night a gay crowd of merry makers is seen sailing over the electire lines in Atlanta. The Consolidated company has two or three cars devoted to this special purpose, decorated with colored lights, and they make quite a picturesque feature as they glide over the city.

His Promotion to a Bolting Machine Caused the Trouble.

Claim That the Foreman Acted Unjustly and Declare That They Will Not Return.

Eight white machinists employed as the Atlanta machine works quit work yesterday morning. One cause of the dispute was the employ ment of a negro laborer on one of the bolt cutters by Foreman J. Cooper, who

But this is not the only cause of the trike. There has been a decided opposiion among the workmen to Foreman Cooper ever since he has had charge of the shops. It seems that very few of the men shops. It seems that very few of the men are his friends, and are making some very bitter charges against him. One of the men stated that he would have quit if the negro had never been put to work on the

Began Thursday Afternoon.

The trouble began Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock, when J. A. Rogers, one of the principle workmen, noticed Cooper place a negro to work on the bolt machine, which has always, heretofore, been operated by a white man, and is supposed to be the work of an apprenticed man. Rog-ers immediately notified his fellow work-men of the negro's position and they held a short consultation, after which they approached Cooper in a body and requested him to put the negro back to his regular work. This request, however, was ignored by the foreman, who told the men that he would confer with them after working hours.

They consented to this suggestion and immediately after the whistle had blown the men held a consultation with Cooper lasting for over an hour. They clearly explained to him their posi-tion, arguing that they were not accustomed to work on an equality with the negroes; that they had to depend on their chosen profession for a livelihood, which would necessarily be cheapened by the employment of colored labor in that capacity, and that they would quit before they could consent to such a system. Mr. Cooper heard their arguments, but gave them no satisfaction, and the me-chanics left the shops Thursday night having probably finished their last day's work for the Atlanta Machine Company.

Quit in a Body. The men assembled at the shops as usual at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and held a short consultation. Eight of them decided to stop work, and they picked up their tools and carried them to their homes They have not been inside the shops since. The machine department of the establishment was practically at a standstill all day yesterday. Only two or three men were at work in the big shops, and nearly all the machines were idle. The company state that they will take back the men if they wish to come, but if not, they will employ the first applicants. Foreman Cooper Talks. Foreman Cooper was seen at the shops by a Constitution representative yesterday afternoon, and seemed to have no idea as to the cause of the trouble. "I do not know," said he, "what the trouble is about, but I reckon my putting that negro on the bolt machine has stirred up the strike. I am certainly at a loss to know just why they should have take exception to that. "In the north we regard all such men, white and black, as equals, and they do not object to working together. We were in a rush at the time, so I put that negro on to help us out. I have had charge of the shops for six weeks and have only had to discharge two men, which I think is a pretty good record."

Upon being asked if he thought that the men would return to work he replied that he did not know. They could get their former jobs if they wanted them, but σ therwise the first men who applied would be put to work. Other Side of the Story. While the machinists are satisfied that they are justified in their actions, yet most of them have been with this company for many years and it is rather hard on them

There are eight of the strikers, and their names are as follows: J. A. Rodgers, Ed Brooks, Oscar Owen, J. T. Hardeman, Lee York, Ira Jones, Jim Thompson and Will

The men are exceedingly indignant at the treatment they have received at the hands of Foreman Cooper, as is evidenced by the following card, written yesterday expressly for The Constitution: "Atlanta, May 22.—Editor Constitution: We think it only right that the public should inderstand our position in this dispute and take the liberty of requesting some of your valuable space for this purpose.

"This trouble does not hinge entirely on the negro question. While we justly believe that our rights as highbred citizens have been trampled upon, yet the difficulty has been brewing ever since Foreman Cooper has been in charge of the shops. He is a northern man and has treated us with the utmost discourtesy and utterly disregards the social plane in which the negro is held by the southern people.

"When he first came he tried to get on the good side of every man in the shop in order to become familiar with the work, and, therefore, received much help from us. We afterwards found, however, that he intends to stab us in the back and to employ a new set of men. We have absolutely no confidence in him, a feeling that has been prompted by many suspicious actions on his part, and we do not believe that he is capable to fill the position he now occupies.

"He told us during our consultation that been brewing ever since Foreman Cooper now occupies.

"He told us during our consultation that he regarded the negro his equal, and that he was certain he was as good as any of us. We just wish to state that we do not care to work for a man who is no better then a 'negreer'.

"Our inion requires our action and we mean to stick to it, if we starve. We have one of the members of the firm with us, and will not work for a man who utterly disregards the principles that were born in us. (Signed.)

HIS VETO HAND.

The Mayor Does Not Approve of the Police Work Ordinance.

Mayor King has vetoed the ordinance passed at the last meeting of the city council giving the chief of police authority to incur such expense as may be precessing in the secret detective service. necessary in the secret detective service.

The ordinance had been approved by the council and the aldermanic board. The ordinance was sent to Mayor King yesterday, and he returned it with his veto, which he explained in the following letter:

"Mayor's Office, Atlanta, Ga., May 22, 1896.—To the Honorable General Council: I return without my approval the attached ordinance, adopted by council on the 18th instant, and concurred in by the aldermanic board on the 21st instant, which authorized the chief of police, with the concurrence of the chairman of the police commissioners, to incur such expense as they consider necessary in the secret service of the police department, and render accounts without giving the names of parties employed in such service when the same would constitute a breach of confidence, or tend to render such service less effective, for the following reasons, viz:

"The city laws provide for different de-less effective, for the following reasons, viz:

"The city laws provide for different departments, such as the police department, the fire department, the fire department, the fire department, the department of education and others numbering over twenty in all, to insure the orderly and regular transaction of the municifal business in its various branches. Such laws also provide that all expenditures in any of these departments shall first be approved by the chairman of the council committee who has supervision of the same. These are wise and salutary provisions, not only to guarantee the regular transaction of business, but in order that the representatives chosen by the people and responsible to them, shall know how the public funds are being expended. I believe that all amounts raised by taxation should be disbursed for such things only as that a full accounting can be rendered therefor to the proper representatives of the city government, and do not think it would be wise to place it in the power of any board or department to make expenditures without advising the chairtatives of the city government, and do not think it would be wise to place it in the power of any board or department to make expenditures without advising the chairman of the appropriate council committee thereof. It is a duty that we owe the people to see that the taxes collected are disbursed for municipal purposes, and I do not think this responsibility should be avoided by authorizing any officer, or the chairman of any department, to spend an unlimited amount of money for any secret purpose that in their opinion is necessary. Indeed, with a regular detective department organized, managed by a sergeant of police, and with the necessary officers detailed for that service, in addition to the regular police force, there does not seem to be much fiecessity for expenditures in connection with a secret service, the items of which should not be made known to the chairman of the police committee of council.

"The passage of this ordinance would be in my judgment a first step in the wrong direction, and because it is too dangerous a precedent, I feel it my duty to withhold my approval. Respectfully,

"PORTER KING, Mayor."

Recommendations of the Pardon Board. SEVERAL GRANTED CLEMENCY

HILL OR BERESFORD

Governor Atkinson Acts on the Other

NO PARDON FOR

But No Mention Was Made of Hill or

Batch of Pardons Granted by Gov ernor Atkinson Yesterday-Work of the Pardon Board.

The pardon board has met and adjourned the governor has issued his approvals and joy will reign in many bosoms in the Georgia penitentiary when the glad news

But joy will be confined in the bosom of the representative of effete nobility and of Georgia's gayest lothario. My Lord Beresford and Harry Hill are not on the list. Lowndes Calhoun goes free, and so does Richard Smith and various other gen tlemen of high standing in the annals of crime. But the two star inmates of the pen, about whom more fuss has been raised and for whom the most stren forts have been made, will for the time remain behind prison bars and meditate in enforced obscurity on their bad luck. The pardon board from the senate and met in Atlanta during the latter part of last week, while the governor was in New York, and passed up a number of names. The governor returned on Thursday and yesterday issued the following approvals of recommendations of pardon: Tom Wilkinson, of Fulton county, who was in for a short term, gets his pardon Cobb county two years ago, according t plices in the pen state that he had nothing

plices in the pen state that he had nothing to do with it.

Henry Braswell, of Dade county, was also sent up for burglary several months since. The evidence before the committee showed that he was innocent of the charge. Tom Colbert, of Bibb, also fell into the clutches of the law for some discrepancy a while back, but in the opinion of the board he had suffered sufficiently for his error, and out he goes.

Oates Thomas, who went up for burglary from Columbia county, in the opinion of the committee was only guilty of a larceny, and so he goes free, his punishment having been sufficient for the latter crime. Lowndes Calhoun, the young colored boy who was sent up from Fulton several months ago for two years for shooting at a man, is pardoned on account of his youth.

Matthew Hart, of Sumter, and Richard Smith, of Quitman, the latter a life man, Smith, of Quitman, the latter a life man, are also in the list. The Advantage of the Pardon Board. A glance over the records at the capitol will show the great benefit of this pardor board. Some of the men pardoned had innocent, or had committed another crime innocent, or had committed another crime, according to the law. This board stands, after the courts, as a means to carry out justice, and it is doing good work.

Of course it is only an aid to the governor. He, after all, uses his discretion, but the board boils down the matter for him, as it were, and gives him the advantage of its wist counsel. If he does not see it in the same light the board does, he withholds his signature.

see it in the same light the board does, he withholds his signature.

That is what he has done in the Beresford and Harry Hill recommendations, both of which came to him from the board marked with that body's approval: but Governor Atkinson thought otherwise, and so these two gentlemen remain for the nonce in their prison garb and habitation. Taxes on the M. and N. G. Mr. R. J. Lowry yesterday turned over to the comptroller general a check for something over $14,000, which pays in full all back taxes and dues from the Marietta and North Georgia railroad to the state-Captain Lowry was instructed to pay this debt to the state from the first payment made by the new purchasers of the road and the account was squared yesterday.

Gone to Kentucky. Hon. Josiah Patterson left yesterday for Kentucky, where he has gone to have a hand in the campaign. He is working up there for Secretary Carlisle. It is understood that another member of the cabinet secured his services for Atlanta Later he may go into West Virginia at the instance of Postmaster General Wilson.

Sam Jones and Tillman.

Arrangements are in progress for a joint debate at the exposition grounds between Rev. Sam Jones and Senator Ben Tillman. It is said that there is a strong probability of their meeting. Mr. Jones advocates the isingle gold standard and Mr. Tillman wants both metals coined free at 16 to 1. If they do meet in joint debate it will be the crossing of two live wires. the crossing of two live wires.

She Had Many Names.

Emma Carter, alias Marion, alias Taylor, who, it seems, has borrowed money under her various names, was tried before Justice Bloodworth yesterday afternoon for being a common cheat and swindler. In borrowing the money, Emma, it seems, gave securities that proved to be worthless. No decision was rendered yesterday and the case was continued.

A Dull Market and Prices Went Down Considerably.

CROP NEWS WAS FAVORABLE

But Too Much Rain Reported from Texas-Cotton Lost About a Dozen Points.

New York, May 22.-The market at th stock exchange was one of specialties to day. Sugar, Tobacco and Manhattan wer the favorites of the room traders, who sti control the limited speculation. Sugar re mained nearly 2 points higher, moving up to 124% on buying by brokers who, it is said, are acting for the Havemeyer inte ests. The recent decline in refined and th passing of the new sugar bounty bill by the bundesrath made a number of bears on the stock and the short interest was quite large up to yesterday. The rally then and the further advance today rather alarmed the bears who were among the heavies buyers in the closing dealings. Tobacco rose 224 per cent to 67% and closed at the top figures. Some of the buying was based idea that a settlement with the western competitors of the company wa not far off. Manhattan rose from 1021/2 t 105%, the refusal of the appellate division of the supreme court to confirm the rapid committee report, having started up a lively demand for the stock. The de cision practically kills the underground rapid transit scheme. The railway list started off weak on lower cables and the withdrawal of $1,100,000 gold from the sub treasury for export. The loss, however, was merely fractional and in the afternoon session higher prices were the rule. An impression prevails that McKinley or those in charge of his canvass have assured the banking interests of the east that he is in favor of the gold standard. This, with statements by bankers that the exports of the metal are likely to dwindle to small proportions in the near future, contributed to the good feeling which prevailed in the late dealings. The statement of the North-west road for April showing an increase of $303,000 strengthened the Grangers. Speculation left off strong, net changes showing advances of 1462 per cent, the latter in Manhattan. Total sales were 123,374 shares. The bond market was higher today. Early Morning Gossip. By Private Wire to Paine-Murphy Broker

Willem & Gray say the new sugar boun ty bill has passed the bundesrath and now only awaits the approval of the emperor to become a law. The Hamburg market is firmer for beet sugars with an increase demand on this account.

The advance in Sugar was credited, probably correctly, to Moore & Shley, who bought openly and through brokers. Greis-sel was the largest buyer, about 4 000 shares. Although Cuthben & Co., Dominick & Dickeman, Henry Allen, R. J. Kimball and Clark, Ward & Co. bough lots of 1,000 shares or more each. There was talg in the room that the advance had compelled the covering of a short line of 15,000 shares yesterday. The buying was in scattered lots. There was no news in connection with the property to cause any particular hence the advance was regarded as a market turn. One of the leading houses in this city tells us that its correspondents abroad say the main subject of people's talk as regards our securities is Mr. McKinley's position. They seem to be doing a good deal of wor-rying over this and accord it first place in their discussions regarding our affairs. Mr. McKinley's tariff opinions are not discussed to any great extent and it is fair to say that the question of protection is not at present a factor in shaping news abroad as to our securities to any marked extent. New York, May 22.-News was bearish and prices gave way, especially in the crop months, July falling 12 points and August 14 points. Liverpool was less active and lower, and me crop news on the whole was favorable, while rains were predicted for the Carolinas and Tennessee. There is a prospect of too much rain in eastern Texas. There was considerable long liquidation and this afternoon an abof support. About the only buying was to cover shorts.

for an all the more rapid decline. The heaviest selling was of this crop by local and southern operators.

Spot markets here and at the south were dull and depressed. Liverpool was not only lower, but less active on the spot, and there was less demand here from the shorts. One firm is said to have privately settled 40,000 bales for short account yesterday. This, if true, removes just so much short interest, and at the same time shows that the bulls are not averse to selling large blocks at present prices if they get the chance. The next crop showed the most steadiness, in spite of the more favorable weather reported at the south, and there is no doubt that there is a tendency to oversell the next crop deliveries.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, May 22.—This was another very active day in cotton. The liquidation of the summer months, and especially of August, being the feature of the trading prices of the near deliveries again fell sharply. The later months were also weaker, but owing to brisk buying to cover shorts declined far less than May, June, July and August. On the opening call August sold at 8 cents, later rallied to 8.03, then declined to 7.86 and closed at 7.89, with the tone irregular, closing steady. After the close August was offered at 7.88. October during the day declined about 5 points and December about 3 points, as against 11 points decline in August. The belief is even more general now than yesterday that the bull deal in the summer months has collapsed and that the premium on these months as compared with the later ones will show a continued and perhaps rapid shrinkage. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter, Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, May 22.—The weakness in the summer deliveries has been due to realizing sales due to the near possibility of imports of cotton from Liverpool if this market advanced materially, although there is an apparent loss of from 3-16 to in the operation based on the high grades. The loss to any one receiving higher grades would be greater at the premium over the new crop deliveries, therefore it was fair opportunially to make the straddle, buying in Liverpool and selling in New York knowing that they would not lose more than the above amount, while at the same time they stood to make good profits if the crop should prove to be an early one. Support, however, has been given to the market from time to time and it is by no means impossible that the long cotton has passed into strong hands, while the shorts may not have covered, thus making the positions so much stronger. New crop positions have been relatively steadier on the demand to cover shorts on the idea that the present good crop accounts might change for the worse.

Rains have fallen in North and South Carolina and Georgia. During the forenoon there was a heavy liquidation in the present crop months. August selling down 7.86 and subsequently rallying again to 7.90. September was also weak, but the rest of the new crop months were steady, especially December, which was held steady at only two points decline from yesterday by the buying of a prominent German house. It is reported that a house largely short of August had settled 40,000 bales yesterday. Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

under yesterday. Cash wheat was weak and ½c per bushel lower.

Corn was neither active nor independent. The trade was of a local character and very small. The tone and feeling came entirely from the wheat market and the range of prices was too narrow to permit of very profitable dealings, even to those who hold privileges. July corn opened at 29%c, sold between 29%c/29% and 29%c, closing at 29%c/20%c-%c under yesterday. Cash corn was ½c per bushel lower, closing weak.

Oats—Trading was at a minimum. The day was passed in a quiet manner, nothing developing to disturb the duliness of the session. July oats closed 1/40% under yesterday. Cash oats were steady and 1/4c per Provisions-Product was moderately more Provisions—Product was moderately more active than recently. The extremely low prices ruling prompted some buying early. Later, however, a wholly different view was taken and those who had purchased were perfectly willing to dispose of their property. This was especially the case in pork. The hog market was irregular, however, lots being quoted and others steady. A sharp break in pork took place during the morning, packers and professionals offering freely, but lard and ribs held fairly well. Later a partial recovery occurred, shorts doing some covering. July pork closed 12½c under yesterday; July lard 2½c under yesterday, July lard 2½c under yesterday. Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

Chicago, May 22.—The market today has been nervous and irregular, but the feeling most of the session was unchanged to weakness and prices close, somewhat lower than yesterday; opening prices proved highest of the day, which were about %c higher than the close last evening, due to the steadiness displayed abroad, in the face of nearly a 2c decline here yesterday. Liverpool closed steady to ½d higher and the strength there is somewhat unaccounted for. It is possible, however, that the bad reports from this side regarding the growing crop has an influence, but so long as our market is declining in face of them it appears somewhat unusual. Outside trade was exceed-Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter. what unusual. Outside trade was exceedingly light and local traders had the me ket largely under their control. The chear faction is the same that has be prevailing for some time and in this building an almost unsurrountable berrief bear faction is the same that has been prevailing for some time and in this bulls find an almost unsurmountable barrier. That is the continued light clearances and no fresh export demand, the former amounted to only $5,000 total and total clearances for the week are likely to show up very light. While we believe the crop has been injured in several localities and that the present prospects in those sections are not encouraging it does not bring the essential thing to bull the market, that is buying orders. Parties who are sending these reports are not buying, which places holders at a very great disadvantage and does not inspire holding on, but rather a desire to let go on any rally or to stop losses on a decline. This latter selling has been very noticeable the past two days and no doubt considerable of the long interest has been estimated and traders may take hold with little more vim at 60c, although, as formerly stated, we believe the reactions will prove only temporary. The close was rather heavy at nearly low point.

Corn and oats were weak in sympathy with wheat and in oats there seems to be freer country offerings with a less active demand at the seaboard for export.

Provisions suffered further weakness on selling by packers, holders and local traders.

We have thought for some time that prices were not far from bottom, but so far there seems to be no rallying probable in the market. We do at the local traders heave the last the sea to be the last to be the sea to be the sea to be the last to be the country of the past that the past to be the sea to be the sea to be the last the past that the past that the past to be the sea to be the last to be the last the past that the past to be the last the last the last the last that the last that the past that the last that the prices were not far from bottom, but so far there seems to be no rallying probable in the market. We do not believe, however, it safe to sell product short at prevailing prices. PROVISIONS, GRAIN, ETC.

General Weyler's embargo against the exportation of Cuban tobacco is likely to put the finishing touches to what was once our flourishing trade with Cuba. Our ex-ports fell from $23,604,000 in 1893 to $12,809,000 last year, though at the time the trade totals for 1895 were being made the de-vastation of the island had hardly be-

Cuba depends wholly on sugar and tobacco. It is with these that it pays for the flour, provisions and articles of manufactured goods it has bought in large quantities from the United States. This season, however, it will have neither sugar nor tobacco. The sugar industry is already ruined. The World's dispatches have shown that there are now nothing but blackened ruins to mark the sites of the sugar mills which once gave the island its largest rev-enue. Add to this the suppression of the tobacco trade under General Weyler's order of embargo, and the misery of Cuba is

By what right does Spain protract a harbaric war to such extremity? For how many years may a stronger power inflict the direct calamities on a weaker one which it is unable to subjugate by force of arms? How can Spain expect that the people of the United States will view with indifference the misery thus wantonly visited on Americans? TREASURER PAYNE FILES HIS ANSWER

POLITICAL REASONS

He Sues Commissioners Adair and Brown for $5,000 Damages.

AND SPEAKS IN NO UNCERTAIN WORDS Other Suits Will Be Filed Against

Treasurer Fayne by County sittorney Rosser in a Few Days.

his answer to the suit which was brought against him by County Attorney Rosser

The answer contains many sensational allegations, and was filed by Attorneys

In the answer it is charged that the suit against Treasurer Payne, which was filed last week was not the act of the county of Fulton, but was brought at the instance of Commissioners Forrest Adair and Walter R. Brown, and instead of the action the county and owed by ex-Clerk Cooper, it was to damage the candidacy of Judge

Treasurer Payne says the suit is malic lously libellous, and was brought by individuals under color of attempted legal proceedings on the part of Fulton counwith intent to injure him by unjust and unwarranted insinuations.

He insists that the suit be treated as the county, and further prays the court to make Commissioners Forrest Adair and that they be required to show cause why they should not pay Treasurer Payne the sum of $5,000 damages

In the suit brought against Treasurer Payne by the county he is charged with neglect of office in that he was the treasurer of the county and was informed by John Tyler Cooper of the shortage without giving the board this information. He is also charged with the amount of the shortage, as the county takes the position that he was the treasurer, whose duty it was and is to collect and demand all moneys' due the county from all persons

Other suits will be filed by the county against Treasurer Payne and his bondsmen for years in which the shortage existed, and the commissioners say they are determined to collect every dollar owe the county through the defalcation of Mr.

Cooper.

Payne Charges Conspiracy. Treasurer Payne says the purpose of the suits is to defeat him in the approaching primary and that letters have been writgiving another candidate their support and indorsement.

He denies that he is responsible for the shortage, and charges the litigation solely to political reasons. He says the suits being filed just at this time are for political effect alone and is to be used to influence

n a position to know the details of the affairs of the county much better than he, as the board ordered licenses to be granted and had every opportunity to see if the moneys had been collected, as he as treasurer of the county made monthly statements, showing what had been paid and what was still due the county, "The public can read between the lines," said Judge Payne, "and my friends have seen the purport of the tuits. It is all a manufactured scheme to unduly influence voters against me and an effort has been made to place me in an embarrassing posi-

"I am not responsible for the shortage. The board should have known what was going on, and there is where the responsibility lies and not at my door."

Their Object To Oust Cooper.

"And for further plea and answer this defendant says that said suit, as instituted, is not the act of Fulton county, but is the act of Walter R. Brown and Forrest Adair, two members of the board of county commissioners of roads and revenues in and for said county, and two members of a committee known as the finance committee of said board, the third member of which is Joseph Thompson; that said Brown and Adair entered upon the discharge of their duties as commissioners of roads and revenues in and for said county at the beginning of the year 1895, with the declared intention to get rid of John Tyler Cooper as clerk of said board: that it was their duty, if they had reason to believe or did believe that the said Cooper was not faitafully discharging his duty, to thoroughly investigate his conduct of the office he held and to bring him to account, but instead of so doing they, in neglect of their

sworn duty, permitted him to collect mon-eys, which it was their duty to see should go into the county treasury, and convert the same to his own use; that this defendant, month after month, reported to said board his collections, and had said finance committee, and especially said Adair and Brown, been alive to their duty, they would have seen and known that said Cooper had not paid and was not paying into the county treasury one cent of his collections from liquor licenses, theatrical perform ances, or sales of county maps in said

Savs His Books Are Correct. "This defendant supposed that the said Adair and Brown, who were making a

alert and that nothing had escaped or descape their Argus eyes, unless it a statute or fact that stood in the of their accomplishment of their purse; and this defendant was surprised be-He Claims the Suits Have Been Filed at

"Tais defendant further says that when it came to his knowledge that there was or might be money in the hands of said Cooper which ought to be in the county treas-ury, he made demand therefor and com-municated said demand to said finance committee and, through his counsel, suggested that the board of commissioners should at once have execution issued against said Cooper in order to bind any property the said Cooper might have in his hands, but this manifest duty said custo-dians wholly neglected. "This defendant was powerless to take any steps himself, as he had no authority to use the name of the county or direct a suit, but was very desireus that no loss should befall the county which he could

Is the Board Liable?

"This defendant, being advised by his counsel and believing that the commis-sioners themselves (who are bonded officers and not a court), were responsible for the collection and payment into the county treasury of the proceeds of the liquor li-censes, theatrical performances and sales of county property, made Gemand of said commissioners that they should pay in the same; that said commissioners, as a board, instead of paying in or directing suits against the individual members of the board, turned the whole matter over to the finance committee; and said Adair and Brown, as this defendant is informed and believes, without consulting with the chair-man of the committee (Joseph Thompson), have directed and controlled all subsequent proceedings, and said two commissioners being anxious to centrol all county affairs, and especially its treasury, and actually claim such right in the fourth paragrap! of said petition, have procured a candidate to oppose this defendant, who is also candidate, in a nomination at a primary to be held on the 6th of June, and are sending cut circulars to such persons as they think they can influence or control, some of which are signed by Forrest Adair and some by Walter R. Brown, and which

The Malone Letter. "Atlanta, May 20, 1896.—Dear Sir: My friend, Mr. Frank N. Malone, is a candi-date for treasurer of Fulton county, subject to the democratic primary to be held June 6, 1896. Mr. Malone is a gentleman of high character, real merit, and a representative young business man. For many years he has held a responsible position in the Atlanta National bank, deservedly enjoys the confidence and good will of his employers and has the confidence and regard of the business community and of all who know him.

"If elected he will prove attentive and eapable and give an efficient business ad-ministration of the office. Your support and influence in behalf of his candidacy will be highly appreciated by me.'

For Political Effect. "This defendant says that it can readily be seen from the appearance of said sult and the peculiar character of the averments therein that it was intended for political effect at said election, and not as a bona fide suit to recover to the county funds for which this defendant is responsible; that the time of its institution and the character of the averments in the thirty-six paragraphs thereof clearly indicate that the object of said suit was to defeat, if possible, this defendant for nomination as county treasurer for the years 1897 and 1898. "This defendant shows to the court that vear after year his books have been examined by experts appointed by the grand jury and have always been found correct; that he has ever discharged every known duty and has always sought to know and fulfill his duty: that the neglect with which he is charged was no neglect of any duty by him, but was a neglect of duty on the part of those who have instigated this suit and who are seeking, for purposes of their own, to reflect upon the character of a faithful official, who has ever done and ever will do his duty.

Wants $5,000 Damages.

Wherefore, this defendant says that said suit is maliciously libellous, brought by said individuals under color of attemptlegal proceedings on the part of Fult county, as a corporation which cannot it self commit such a tort, with intent to in-jure this defendant by unjust and unwar-ranted insinuations and charges in reference to the conduct of his office as treas-urer by this defendant, which are calculated to injure this defendant therein, and not having been brought in the corporate name of 'Fulton county,' prays that it may be held and treated as a suit instituted by said Forrest Adair and Walter R. Brown, and that they be made parties thereto and that process issue against them requiring them to show cause why they should not answer to this defendant in the sum of $5,000 damages."

Who Will Pay the County? The county commissioners are anxious that the shortage be paid, but it is an ineresting question who will make good fhe Ex-Clerk Cooper has not made a settle ment, though it was announced upon his return from Costa Rica that every dollar would be paid. Treasurer Payne says he is not liable for the shortage and throws the responsibility upon the commisioners themselves. Legal proceedings have been instituted against both ex-Clerk Cooper and Treasurer Payne and the suits are now pending

Mr. Adair Makes Reply. Commissioner Forrest Adair furnishes the following statement regarding the suit:
"I certainly am very much surprised that Treasurer Payne and Colonel Thomson, his attorney, should have filed such a suit against Mr. Brown and myself and should have made the several charges contained against Mr. Brown and myself and should have made the several charges contained therein, which are so largely at a variance with the facts.

"We are condemned by Mr. Payne for having gone into the office with the declared intention to get rid of John Tyler Cooper, the clerk. This I deny, but I admit that some time after having entered upon the duties of commissioner I became convinced that Mr. Cooper was negligent, careless, indifferent, and was not, in my opinion, a proper person to fill the office, and I did use every effort to displace him and elect the present clerk, Mr. Kontz. For this act Mr. Payne in his suit condemns me, but I offer no apology, and leave the public to judge whether or not subsequent facts have shown that the change was a wise one.

"Mr. Payne, in his gratuitous flings, refers to us as guardians of the county's interest, and as being anxious to control all county affairs and especially its treasury. I plead guilty to having been active in the interest of the county and have brought to bear in my public service all the skill and ability I possess, and in so doing I realize the fact that I have antagonized a few people who had been lax in the performance of their official duties and in the management of the county's finances; I had no hope that my action would meet with their approval, and the thought that it does not will cause me to lose no sleep and will not tend to swerve meerfrom the strict discharge of that duty in the future.

Pays His Respects to Colonel Thomson.

Pays His Respects to Colonel Thomson. Pays His Respects to Colonel Thomson.

"I have always entertained the highest regard for Mr. Payne's attorney, Colonel W. S. Thomson, who was for a great number of years county attorney, and was a candidate for re-election when I entered the discharge of my duti es as commissioner, and in declining to support Colonel Thomson and in advocating the election of Mr. Rosser it seems that I have incurred the displeasure of Colonel Thomson, which appears to have been in a measure augmented by the subsequent actions of the board in overruling some of his official acts, notably his legal opinion authorizing the purchase of the Hope poor farm, whereby the taxpayers of Fulton county were saved $18,000.

"Mr. Payne censures me because I happen to think that Mr. Frank N. Malone will make a more efficient and acceptable treasurer of Fitton county, and because I have been frank enough to express that opinion to my friends, he sues me for damages. I have always labored under the delusion that it was the right of an American citizen to support and vote for whom he pleased for public office, and I am not aware of the fact that a county commissioner is necessarily disfranchised or disqualified from espressing his opinion, but on the contrary I strongly believe that it was my duty to express to the public my opinion, especially when that opinion is formed after a careful and diligent official study of the administration of its officers.

Why He Favors Malone.

Why He Favors Malone.

Why He Favors Malone.

"I think that this charge and suit of Mr. Payne demands that I now state to the public why I favor the election of Mr. Malone. In the examination of the county books I have found numerous evidences of the grossest carelessness and incompetence on the part of Mr. Payne and will mention only a few of them.

"The public is familiar with the fact that the licme bank of Atlanta went into the hands of a receiver last fall with $2,000 of the county's money in its hands, and yet Mr. Payne made the most startling statement to the board of commissioners that he did not know that one dollar of the county's money was in the hands of this bank. I have never heard of any satisfactory explanation for this state of affairs or any excuse rendered for Mr. Payne's ignorance as to the whereabouts of the money belonging to the taxpayers, which he was sworn to faithfully keep.

"On the 27th of October Mr. Stewart, tax collector, paid to Mr. Payne $590, which was not entered on his books until December 4th, when the following most remarkable entry appears: 1895, Dec. 4. To amt. received of A. P. Stewart, tax, '94 (Oct 27, nunc pro tune) $590."

"As far back as September II, 1886, I find the following entry: 'Cash from John T. Cooper, liquor license, etc., at different times since 19th of July 1884: Sundry receipts consolidated, $1,322.58.' This entry repears three days prior to the statement of the grand jury experts when they reported that Mr. Cooper was short, and it might be of interest for Mr. Payne to explain why he had been receiving money from Mr. Cooper at different times covering a period of two years and two months and yet made no entry of it on his books until just before the damaging report of the grand jury experts.

"I firmly believe, and I deem it my duty

What Cooper's Stub-Book Shows.

"I firmly believe, and I deem it my duty to state, that if Mr. Payne had been efficient in his dutles as treasurer Mr. John T. Cooper would not stand before the public today indicted for embezzlement. The slightest diligence in examining the liquor license book of stubs will show that as far back as January 12, 1890, Mr. Cooper collected $250 from Rose Bros., which he kept until February II, 1890, upon which date he paid it over to Mr. Payne with a check that had been received the day before from P. J. Kennedy. The date of the license, across the face of which Mr. Payne wrote his receipt, shows that the money paid by Rose had not been turned over to the treasurer, but had been relawfully held by the clerk. From that time on an examination of this stub book will show a succession of kiting that, it is hard to believe could have been concealed from even so careless a person as Treasurer Payne.

"Until a few months ago Mr. Payne has never rendered a full and correct monthly statement of his receipts and disbursements, showing the balance in his hands, and when requested by the board to make such a business statement expressed the opinion that such a requirement was a personal reflection upcn him.

The Board Ordered Suits. What Cooper's Stub-Book Shows.

The Board Ordered Suits.

The Board Ordered Suits.

"Mr. Payne, in his suit, charges that Mr. Brown and I have acted as individuals and without the authority of the board. I do not believe that this charge is malicious, and I think that it is in keeping with his carelessness, ignorance and negligence, for the minutes of the board of county commissioners, which are kept open on a desk in the same office with his, show that on April 3, 1896, with a full board of commissioners and Mr. Payne present, Mr. Payne was cited to appear before the board on April 7th, to give an account of his acts and doings respecting the demand and collection by him of the county dues, especially licenses, etc. I cannot believe that Mr. Payne has forgotten this meeting, for while present he stated that he had never read the acts governing the duties of his office.

"At the subsequent meeting of the board, held on April 7th, the following order was passed with a full board present, and in the presence of Mr. Payne and Colonel Thomson, his attorney:

"Resolved, That the matter of shortage in payments to and receipts by the county from liquor licenses, tax on theatrical and musical entertainments, sale of maps and miscellaneous county dues be, and it is hereby referred to the finance committee and county attorney, with instructions to proceed to collect from all parties, late hereby referred to the finance committee and county attorney, with instructions to proceed to collect from all parties, late clerk of this board, county treasurer and their bondsmen, liquor dealers and others who are, in the opinion of said county attorney liable therefor, all such sums so owing the county. Said committee will, if necessary, institute all proper suits and prosecute the same, that may be necessary to enforce the payments of such sums or any of them.'

Says Payne Shielded Cooper.

Says Payne Shielded Cooper.

"At each of these meetings Mr. Payne had every opportunity to reveal to the board the fact that Mr. Cooper had, prior to his departure for Costa Rica, confessed to him that he was short in his accounts, but Mr. Payne, in direct disregard of his public duty and oath, carefully shielded Mr. Cooper and kept this information a secret from the board until Mr. Cooper telegraphed it from Montgomery, after which Mr. Payne, in an interview with your reporter, admitted that Mr. Cooper had thus confided in him.

"These are a few of the reasons why I shall support Mr. Malone as treasurer and why I have deemed it my duty to use my influence in his behalf. I have no personal interest in Mr. Malone and am actuated solely by a desire to bring about a proper administration of the county affairs by putting competent, careful and active officers in the responsible positions, and this same spirit has characterized all of my official actions since I have been a public servant and will continue to be my course until the expiration of my term of office.

"Mr. Payne has been county treasurer for twenty-seven years, and seems to think that he has a life tenure on the office, and if any one has the temerity to oppose him he will immediately institute suit for $5,000 damages. I think that if Mr. Payne will wait until the evening of June 6th, he will find an overwhelming number of prospective defendants."

What Mr. Brown Says. Commissioner Walter R. Brown furnished the following statement concerning Mr.

Payne's suit:

"The original suit on the part of the county was brought by County Attorney Rosser in behalf of the citizens to recover money which should be in the county treasury, and the suit was instituted by direction of the board of county commissioners, and I cannot understand why Mr. Adair and myself are singled out by Mr. Payne and condemned for our vigilance in endeavoring to protect the finances of Fulton county.

"The political stump speech made by Colonel Thompson in behalf of Mr. Payne, in his answer against Mr. Adair and myself, is a most remarkable document and childish in the extreme, and it appears that both Colonel Thomson and Mr. Payne are mad because Mr. Adair and myself have endeavored to collect money due the county.

"Mr. Payne's answer is evidently in.

and myself, who as commissioners are acting by authority of the county board. "I have refrsined from saying anything unkind about Mr. Payne in his candidacy for re-election as treasurer, but he has seen fit to become offended because I believe it to the interest of the county that there should be a change in that office. I do believe it to be a public duty to say to the voters of Fulton county that, upon an examination of the books of the treasurer and the careless and unsatisfactory manner in which the same are kept, Mr. Payne should step aside and some other person more competent and better qualified in a business way for the discharge of the duties should be elected.

"The people pay $2.500 a year for a treasurer and I think that they are entitled to a thorough and efficient administration of the affairs of that office, and that such salary should command the services of a person in every way qualified for the position. Some years ago Mr. Payne procured a legislative act which required him to remain at the office only three hours per day, and for three hours work per day has been drawing $2,500 for some years. Mr. Adair and myself thought and still believe that the treasurer should remain at the office at least eight hours per day, and we endeavored to have the last legislature pass an act requiring the treasurer to remain that length of time at his public office, but Mr. Payne caused the defeat of that law. It is true that I am in favor of the election of Mr. Malone, whon Messrs. Paul Romare and C. E. Currier say is the best accountant in Atlanta. Mr. Malone has given his pledge that the will keep the office of the treasury open during business hours. This, Mr. Payne and Colonel Thompson have

Was for Mr. Kontz.

"Mr. Payne and Colonel Thompson have seen fit to consure Mr. Adair and myself for voting against Mr. Cooper as clerk. It is true we thought it wise to make a change in the clerkship and accordingly voted for Mr. Anton L. Kontz, and I cannot see any reason to regret that vote, and I do not see why it should be made a cause of action on the part of Mr. Payne in the damage suit against us for $5,000. It will be well for the public to bear in mind that most of this defalcation for which we are suing occurred prior to the election of Mr. Adair and myself as commissioners. Only a few hundred dollars being misappropriated the few months before the defeat of Mr. Cooper as clerk.

"I should make no reply to the answer filed by Mr. Payne except that I believe it is for no other purpose than to deter Mr. Adair and myself from making further efforts to collect the money due the people. Mr. Payne doubtless has heard that it is the wish of Mr. Adair and myself as members of the finance committee to have a thorough sifting of the affalrs of the county treasurer. This suit will not trouble us in the least. The public can readily understand that Mr. Payne is a candidate for re-election and is seeking to manufacture public sentiment. The board intends to proceed with such examination regardless of damage suits. "I shall not undertake to recount the many excellent reasons for a change in the treasurership, as these facts have been so well presented by Mr. Adair, against whom Mr. Payne has instituted suit for $5,000 along with myself. The tendency of this suit will be to put the commissioners off notice that if they find any further defalcation they are liable to be sued for damages unless they keep it secret." CALLAHAN WANTED FOR THE BOX

Three New Men Are Now with the Team-Two Games Will Be Fiayed Today.

National League Standing. Played, Won, Lost, Pr Cent

The Atlantas played a tie game with Columbus yesterday, the first of the many tie games of the season in which Atlanta has participated.

Two games will be played today and to morrow the team will come home. Manager Knowles has a badly crippled team on his hands, but is making a won derfully strong fight for every game he enters, a fight few teams could make he same condition.

So far the team has not done as well as some of the lovers of the game wanted, but if the work the men have done is carefully inspected it will be seen that the Atlantas have done as well, in fact better than most visiting teams can do Up to the time Knowles hit Columbus he had won 33 per cent of the games played. That is a good average for a team away n home. Few teams do that well.
glance at the team yesterday will how badly it is crippled. Knowles had to put Callahan in the box, and in order to cover second Shea had to be moved from shortstop. Knowles went to short and planted Walker on first with Secrist in the field. That necessarily weak-ened the team, but every one must adnit that it was the best that could be done Shea was a stranger to the men about, while the men had to measure Shea before they could find him. But Shea covered the point faultlessly, showing that Knowles knew pretty well what he was doing. Walker at first was a handicap when the game started, but he covered good crowd may turn the tide Atlanta's way and start a good winning streak which will place the team near the pennant pole. No good can come of abusing the team. It only disheartens the men. It is better to encourage them by good attendance and support even if they don't win every day. Every team can't win, but the Atlantas stand as good chance as any in the south. Just as soon as Manager Knowles sees that his men are not swift enough he will make the neces

Away from home the team draws better than ary team in the league. That shows what others think of Knowles and his men.
The papers in every city in the circuit speak of the team as one of the strongest, best playing in the league, and book it as a bidder for the pennant.

In the crippled condition in which the boys are unlucky enough to be at present, the showing in Mobile and New Orleans is certainly a good one.

After Mobile had placed a long line of After Mobile had placed a long line of victories to her credit, the Atlantas were the first to succeed in downing them one game, while the other two games were by no means a walk-away for either side. Phillips should be credited with these two defeats, as his costly errors did more to lose these two games than all else. He took the life out of the game by his fumbles and poor judgment, but Manager Knowles had no one to put at short and for this reason the team was very badly crippled, as it was necessary to put a pitcher on the infield.

Even in that condition the Atlantas took one game out of New Orleans, which is as good as any team has done on the Pelican grounds this season. grounds this season.

The fans have no right to be dissatisfied with this work, and their estimation of Knowles's men should be as high or even higher than ever. It was a hard fight to take two games in the southern cities with a team crippled as the Atlanta boys were.

Manager Knowles is considered very lucky in securing Secrist, the New Orleans twirler, who has won six games for that club this year. Powell realized his mistake the day following, and could he have resigned Secrist he would have been only too glad to do so.

signed Secrist he would have been only too glad to do so.

The work of the team at Columbus was not as good as it should have been, yet Manager Knowles had three new men in the game, and that, together with the way the boys on the Chattahoochee have strengthened, easily accounts for the defeat. If Knowles takes either of the games today from Columbus and reaches home with three games out of nine, he will undoubtedly do well, even if his team were not crippled.

Cross and Wagner both came home with Norton Thursday, and it is not known at present just how Manager Knowles will line up his men in the opening game next week. Knowles is after a second baseman now, and if he gets him Callahan will undoubtedly take his turn in the box, and with four or five pitchers he will alternate Callahan and Norton in right field.

Shea, the new man at short, is an old face on the diamond and promises to be a good man.

With Shea at short, a fast second baseman and Callahan or Norton in right field, together with the pitching department, Knowles will have a winner.

Jennings is a left-handed man and promises to be a find. He comes from Toledo, O., and has a great amount of speed, with curves which will fool the best of them

The Doncaster Races.

The Doncaster Races.

Lordon, May 22.—Mr. F. Wishard's Magdalene was one of the starters in the race for the Don plate at Doncaster today, but was not placed. Mr. Rose's Repose was first, Lord Wolverton's Aventayle second and Orbe third. The Salisbury cup, value 20) sovereigns, the straight mill, was won by Sir J. Thursby's chestnut mare, Dornroschon. Mr. T. L. Cambie's bay colt Gobty's, was second, and Mr. George Lambton's Red Hat third. Five horses ran. Mr. Foxhall Keene's Behemond, was among the starters, but did not secure a place.

The Longford maiden plate of 100 sovereigns, at Salisbury, for maidens at the time of clesing this stake, five furlongs, was won by Mr. J. Collins's bay filly, Prosperous. Mr. T. Cannon's chestnut filly, Magnificent, was second and Mr. Foxhall Keene's bay colt by Barcaldine, out of Dimity, three years old, third.

The Belgian Wins.

The Belgian Wins. Chicago, May 22.—First place in the bil-liard tournament was won tonight by Albert Garnier, defeating Jacob Schaefer with the odds given the Belgian, 100 points, exactly. Tonight's victory was snatched away from the wizard when the chances ned favorable to his winning easily. Garnier has beaten Ives twice and Schaefer once, while the Americans have each won one game. The game between them to morrow night will decide who gets second money. Tonight's contest was remarkable for the high run of the tournament-111ade by Schaefer in the twenty-first in-

Meeting To Arrange for an Exhibit of Manufactures.

Columbus, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—There was an enthusiastic meeting this morning of the board of trade directors and a few outside citizens of prominence at the office of Mayor Grimes, the object of which was to take steps toward an exhibit from Columbus at the coming Southern States exposition at Chicago. Mr. W. D. Nesbitt, of Atlanta, a son of State Commissioner Nesbitt, and who is a special agent of the exposition, was present and made an interesting talk in its behalf. The nature and needs of the exposition were lucidly explained. The mutual advantages that will result, both to Chicago and the south, will result, both to Chicago and the south, from such an exposition were set forth. The south furnishes the exhibits and the people of Chicago the money and people. The many industries, advantages and resources of this section will be widely advertised, and that the south will be greatly benefited by the enterprise.

Mr. Nesbitt is meeting with much encouragement in his trips about the south. He agement in his trips about the south. He left the city this afternoon.

A Better Schedule and Lower Rates The Constitution has already referred to he effort of the merchants of the city to Interest of the merchants of the city to arrange for an early morning incoming train on the Columbus Southern railway, on Mondays and to obtain lower rates for Saturdays and Mondays. The advantages to be derived from the establishment of such a shoofly train are obvious. Larger crowds of people along the line of this read will visit Columbus than ever before. This territory is naturally tributary to Columbus and all efforts to develon it are in the view. and all efforts to develop it are in the right direction. An agreement has just been reached with the Columbus Southern officials by which the low rates will be granted, as well as the early train on Mondays.

Indorsed Falligant and Frazer. Savannah, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Liberty county, which adjourned tonight, in its general presentnents gave unqualified and unanidorsement to Judge Robert Falligant and Solicitor General W. W. Frazer, of the eastern judicial circuit and heartily recomeastern judicial circuit and heartily recom-mended them to the next general assembly for re-election. This makes the third grand jury out of the five in the circuit that has unanimously indorsed Solicitor General Fraser and there are two others

NEWS OF THE ROADS

Talk of an Effort to Whip the Seaboard Into Line.

PERHAPS NOT SO EASY TO DO That Policy Did Not Work When It

Was Tried by the Freight Association-Personal Gossip.

It is intimated in New York that an attempt may be made to whip the Seaboard Air-Line into the pooling arrangement on usiness from the east. A week ago it was announced that the Seaboard was in the pool, but Vice President St. John quickly denied the rumor.

Talk of a threat to whip him into this pooling arrangement will not tend to get he Seaboard in any faster. Opposition lines have tackled the Seaboard before. Indeed, the old freight association tried o force him in. The late commissioner undertook to handle the Seaboard himself. But the vice president was no novice in the business of railroading. He proceeded to lay for the commissioner and he played an adroit game. The Seaboard announced that it would not sign the agreement un-less the selection of the commissioner was by unanimous vote. Then he had other conditions, but that unanimous vote he insisted on. Finally that was yielded to him and the result was that he brought about a vacancy in the commissionership and did not sign the agreement either. The Southern has a way of bringing financial pressure to bear on other lines which it desires to influence in a certain direction, but so far it has not been able to make the Scaboard dance when it fid-dled. Through Mr. Pierpont Morgan the Southern has a wonderful pull on other lines. A question was to come up at the Old Point meeting this week which offers a case in point. The Southern is anxiou: a case in point. The Southern is anxious to get track facilities for its mail service from Boice Junction into Chattanooga over the Western and Atlantic tracks. It is suspected that Major Thomas took the State road out of the passenger association so that body could not interfere in any way on the request of the Southern. Every one believes that the privilege for the fast mail service once secured by the Southern, would be only an entering wedge. Southern would be only an entering wedge At any rate Mr. Thomas opposed the Southern's scheme and headed the big corporation off last fall. But now it is whispered that the Southern is threatening to do certain things with the Georgia through the Central which would be dis advantageous to the Western and At

Returning to the subject of the traffic, pool, it is understood that the apportionment committee is having trouble in equalizing the business to the satisfaction of all concerned. Some say this may be accomplished by controlling solicitation, but the character of certain tonnage which invariably goes by all rail lines stands in the way of this plan. Machinery coming south cannot stand rehandling and is considered exclusive tonnage. Commissioner Haines is an advocate of a money pool whenever one is legal, but now the law forbids.

Mrs. Green's Railroads.

Mrs. Hetty Green is setting the pace fo railway building in Texas this year. The Texas Midland has a surveying corps in the field, and it is said that the Midland will be in Paris by September 1. Presi dent Ed Green has all the money required for the work. Assurances are also given that the Midland will go from Paris to Little Rock, via Hot Springs, and this Little Rock extension is accepted as con-clusive evidence that when the Little Rock and Memphis is sold under foreclosure t is to become a part of the Texas Miding made for a southern extension.

May Go to the L. Commissioner H. S. Haines, of the South ern States Freight Association is men-tioned for the position of general manager of the New York elevated roads. Colone Hain, the famous general manager, was killed recently by a train in the upper part of the state. Commissioner Haines has a great record as a tailway manager He was manager of the Plant system many years. He was president of American Railway Association for nine years. His management of the freight association in this territory has demonstrated his splendid ability in another direction. Colonel Haines would be an ex-cellent selection.

Colonel Haines is now at Old Point Comfort attending a meeting of the executive board of the association. The talk in New York is based on the highest authority. Some Special Rates.

uncle, does this train stop here?" "Stop here!" the black man replied; "good Lord, no sir, it don't even hesitate!" Rufus Hill, master mechanic of the Penn-Rufus Hill, master mechanic of the Pennsylvania, and general superintendent of the car shops at Pavonia, believes that inside of five years the greater part of the entire Pennsylvania railroad system will be operated by electric locomotives. This judgment is based upon the unexpected success attained on the line between Burlington and Mount Holly.

Kentucky's new state railroad commission has cone to work. It is companied.

Kentucky's new state railroad commission has gone to work. It is composed of three republicans and one democrat.

The Indianapolis Journal says: "The Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern is becoming independent in its traffic arrangements with the Big Four, by which the latter's trains get into Louisville, and it would not be a surprise should the Big Four yet build an independent line to Louisville, as first proposed. It is evident that the Big Four has gone to Louisville to do business, and if from North Vernon to the Louisville bridge the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern does not treat the company satisfactorily a few weeks will see another road built on the line originally surveyed by the Big Four."

Homer A. Judd, formerly president of the Indiana Rice Milling Company, who was indicted for violating the interstate law, pleaded guilty several days ago on four counts and was sentenced to pay a fine of $350 on the second part only. The Kola nut has been used for centuries by Africans as a renewer of the tissues and a preventer of fatigue.

Dr. Charcot, the eminent authority on nervous diseases, prepared a prescription from Kola which he vouched for as a true specific in all nervous diseases and a sure invigorator for the blood.

Dr. Charcot's Kola Nervine Tablets are prepared upon the above mentioned prescription from the fresh nuts especially imported from western Africa.

Kola is not a cure-all. It is a food for nerves, brain and muscle and a tonic for the blood.

Kola Nervine Tablets are absolutely certain and speedy in their effects. They cure all nervous diseases, prevent fatigue, renew falling vigor, give tone to the whole system.

Kola Nervine Tablets cure sleeplessness.

The Augusta people entertained them in royal style and every one was made to feel at home and have a most enjoyable time may number, and they are loud in their praise of Augusta.

It was decided at the convention to meet at Warm Springs next year. Warm Springs is a delightful resort and the bankers expect to have a grand time.

At the convention just finished only business pertaining to banks and the management of them was transacted, and no discussion of the financial question was entered into. Politics was almost entirely eliminated from the proceedings. The bankers are greatly gratified at the success of their convention and hope to make the next one is equal, if not better.

We absolutely guarantee that no harmful or secondary effects are felt from the use of the Tablets.

Can you, in justice to yourself, refuse to pay 3 cents a day for sure relief from neuralgia, bloodlessness, brain fatigue, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, loss of vigor, melancholia and all the evils resulting from a nervous condition? Ask yourself the question with all seriousness.

Dr. A. C. Sherwin, Hotel Pelham, Boston, Mass, indorsed the remedy in September last. He writes more strongly as he learns its great merit:

"Why 'shop girls?" It is English vulgarism which we, with all our snobbery and flunkylsm, engendered by poor imitation of the Anglican people, have no excuse for adopting since our merchants certainly will not permit their emporiums of merchandise to be called shops. Would the writer of that piece referred to consider his wife, mother or sister less a lady than now should the vicissitudes of fortunes compel her to stand behind a counter and sell goods to her more fortunate sister?

FOR WOMEN IN THE SPRING.

The Ablest of Women Journalists Indorses Paine's Celery Compound.

Mrs. H. B. Sperry, who is now the eminent president of the Woman's National Press Association, was assistant editor of The Washington World. Her vigorous ediorials in Ohio and Washington newspapers first brought her into national prominence. The active profession of journalism has kept Mrs. Sperry up to date in information and progressive in thought. When there was evident need of a remedy in her family she was well aware that Paine's celery compound was best to use. The following enthusiastic letter shows the happy results from the use of this greatest of remedles:

INSPECTION FINISHED

Postoffice Investigation Shows but One Shortage in Accounts.

REPORT SENT TO WASHINGTON Rumor That Bookkeeper Thibedeau

Has Been Asked To Resign-His Books Are Straight. Postal Inspectors W. T. Jones and R. E. Barry, who were assigned by Chief Inspector Whitesides, of Chattanooga, to make a careful and thorough inspection of the books of the Atlanta postoffice, yesterday finished their labors and their official report was forwarded to Washington last night.

The regulations of the federal government forbid the inspectors from making the result of their investigation public in detail and consequently a minute report of their work cannot be published at this time. Chief Inspector Whitesides was seen late yesterday afternoon after the final touches on the official report had been made. He said:

"Inspectors Barry and Jones have made a careful investigation of all of the books of the postoffice except those of the money order office and these can be looked through in a day's time. The result of through in a day's time. The result of their labors is that only one shortage was discovered and that was the Mobley shortage of $595.85 in the box rental accounts. "Every other department was in saip shape and there was not a cent out in any of the other accounts.

"Inasmuch as the money order department has to be checked up every week ment has to be checked up every week with the authorities in Washington it is almost impossible for a shortage to occur without its being discovered immdiately. without its being discovered where the contact of the shortage in that department whatever and the shortage I spoke of will be the only one. I think, that we will have to report to Washington. "I will return to Chattanooga tonight, as my work here is completed."

as my work here is completed."
It was reported yesterday that though Postmaster Fox's bockkeeper, Mr. *Louis
M. Thibedeau, was not short in his accounts, his resignation may be forthcomcounts, his resignation may be forthcoming as a result of the investigation.

If Mr. Thibedeau at any time overdrew his accounts there is no doubt that the money was replaced in full, for the books balanced exactly and the cash on hand was just what it should have been when the inspectors finished their work yesterday.

The postoffice officials are rather reticent about giving out information and what wil be done with Bookkeeper Thibedeau is still a matter of uncertainty. It is said that since his books are entirely straight, he will not be prosecuted for any violation of the rules of the office. But there are many around the federal buildings who expect that his resignation will be forth ing very shortly.

BROYLES KEPT BUSY.

licit Distilling Was the Charge Against the Prisoners Yesterday. Against the Prisoners Yesterday.
United States Commissioner Broyles had John Green, a negro, before him yesterday tharged with blockading and assisting in working an illicit distillery.
After hearing the evidence the commissioner bound over the prisoner in $200 bail to appear at the June term of cour.
Another case handled by Commissioner Broyles was that of an elderly man by Broyles was that of an elderly man by the name of Jesse Teal, whom he sent to the Muscoges county jail in default of the Muscoges county jail in default of bond. Teal had been making moonshine whisky and was caught. This is his second trip to Atlanta in company with a revenue man. Last time Teal was lucky enough to get off. The witnesses swore on this trial that they had seen him making whisky at three different stills. He is from Heard county and will be tried in Muscogee county, as all Heard county prisoners are tried at that place.

A TEDIOUS CASE ENDED.

Judge Newman Sustains the Decision of Mr. Percy Adams. One of the most prolonged cases ever ried in Judge Newman's court has just Mr. Percy Adams, who was the special master in the case, was for over five months hearing the evidence. months hearing the evidence.

The case was a foreclosure of a mortgage by Andrew J. Robinson against the Piedmont Marble Company for more than two hundred thousand dollars.

The amount being so large the case was naturally a long and tedious one.

Mr. Adams, at the conclusion of his work, filed his report in favor of Andrew J. Robinson to the amount of $193,871.68.

Exceptions were filed to his report, but after Judge Newman had consumed three days in going over the case he filed his opinion, which sustained the decision of Mr. Adams.

ALUMNAE EXERCISES

Of the Southern Female College, College Park, Saturday Afternoon, May

These exercises promise to be interesting and impressive. The business meeting for alumnae only will be held in the college library at 3:15 p.m. Beginning at 4 o'clock the public exercises will take place in the college chapel, and to this entertainment visitors are cordially invited. The programme will consist of papers, messages, poems and essays by representatives of the various classes for the past fifty-three years of the college history. These literary exercises will be interspersed with music by the alumnae. In the conclusion of the exercises a brief address will be delivered by Hcn. John Temple Graves. Dr. I. T. Tichenor, who married a member of the first graduating class, will open the public exercises with prayer.

The trains for the alumnae exercises will run as follows: The hour train will leave the union car shed at 2:30 p.m., arriving at College Park at 3 o'clock. Visitors may return on the 6 p.m. passenger train. Fare for the round trip is 36 cents, if tickets are bought at the union depot ticket. office.

PRIMARY COMMITTEE PREPARES THE STYLE OF THE TICKET.

Has Opened an Office and Arrangements Are Being Made for the Election.

The committee having in charge the ar rangements for the primary on June 6th has fitted up an office at No. 22½ White hall street, where Mr. W. J. Campbell, secretary and treasurer of the committee, is in charge.

The detail work of getting everything ready for this election is much greater than the average citizen would imagine and it is safe to say that no election in the history of the county ever demanded or will receive more patient and laborious work than the democratic primary to be work than the democratic primary to be held next month. It is likely that the committee, which is composed of Captain W. H. Brotherton, chairman, and Messrs. W. J. Campbell, C. J. Keith, R. P. Dodge and D. A. Cock, will have dally meeintgs from now unil after the election, and a busier man than Secretary Campbell will be hard to find.

At the meeting yesterday the committee determined that for the convenience of voters as well as to facilitate the count by the managers a uniform ticket must be adopted and only tickets having the offices on them in the following order will be allowed:

be adopted and only tickets having the offices on them in the following order will be allowed:

For ordinary, for clerk of the superior court, for sheriff, for receiver of tax returns, for tax collector, for treasurer, for surveyor, for coroner, for two county commissioners, for representatives, for state senator thirty-fifth district, for six delegates to the state democratic convention, for six alternates to the state democratic convention, for member congress fifth district, for United States senator.

The wisdom of the committee in this matter is apparent, for any one can see how confusion and extra labor would be imposed if the tickets voted contained the offices in other than regular order. It will be seen that twenty-eight names will appear on each ticket and some democrat will likely get a good order for the paper to be used for the thousands of tickets that will be printed.
